4. UPDATE, DISCUSSION AND POSSIBLE ACTION ON THE UNIVERSITY NEIGHBORHOOD OVERLAY WORKING GROUP.

(This item was taken up after item 6a.) The motion to forward to the Planning Commission a memo expanding on concerns on how rents might be calculated in an amended program, which was alluded to in a previous memo to the Planning Commission dated August 11, 2011, and to identify the concerns listed below was made by Chair Paup, seconded by Vice Chair Smith and approved on a 3-0-0 vote.

1. The proposed 75 percent rent standard actually creates an $847 rent, much higher than market. The current proposal depends on subtracting out dorm meal plans such as “Bevo Bucks.” This is not mentioned in presentations of the proposal.
2. Even if some provision is added to subtract out meal plans, we have determined that the proposal still yields a rent that is 30 percent higher than market rents for the campus area over the past twelve months.
3. Furthermore, the alternative proposal would establish higher rents than other rents in city affordability programs. For example, if we divided the 80 percent MFI rent for a 4-bedroom apartment into a per bedroom rate, the rent would be $410 per bedroom, which is hundreds of dollars less than the alternative proposal’s rent. This would defeat a key purpose of UNO, which is to enable lower income students to live near the UT campus in more affordable housing.
4. The CDC understands that finding the equivalent standard to other city affordability programs is administratively difficult to achieve, and supports the work that staff has already done to make the current program more student friendly.
5. The CDC recommends that UNO could be made even more student friendly by developing a per bedroom rent based on the HUD affordability structure, for example by dividing the 2-, 3-, and 4-bedroom 80 percent MFI rents into a per bedroom rate and averaging those rates.
6. The CDC also recommends that the rent rates should reflect the discount available in the original UNO affordable rents program so that the rents are always below market rents.

The motion to align Rainey Street with the proposed Downtown Density Bonus (amended CURE) so that 10 percent of the units remain affordable for 40 years was made by Vice Chair Smith, seconded by Commissioner Shepardson and approved on a 3-0-0 vote.
