

RESOLUTION NO. 20120524-092

WHEREAS, recently economic incentives have been a topic of public interest and inquiry with a high level of scrutiny being given to the last several economic development proposals from both the public and the City Council; and

WHEREAS, the Council considers economic development proposals in a variety of forms, including but not limited to, Chapter 380 agreements, master development agreements, city contracts and development fee waivers; and

WHEREAS, commonalities have emerged during discussions of these types of proposals, and several issues have emerged from Council and community conversations yielding similar amendments and last minute negotiations to multiple economic development proposals in the last several months; and

WHEREAS, these amendments and concerns include, but are not limited to: wage floors, worker safety and training, domestic partner benefits, demonstration of need for an incentive, employee health care benefits, consideration of hard to hire employees, provision of community space, small business incentives, and fee waivers; and

WHEREAS, discussing the same or similar amendments to each economic development proposal creates an undue burden on all involved parties, and creating a uniform framework that incorporates these community values and possibly others would provide a more transparent process; and

WHEREAS, in order to ensure that community values such as those indicated in the Comprehensive Plan and concerns are represented in these deliberations, a public stakeholder process should be created so that Council can make the necessary changes to the City's economic development incentive process in accordance with the Comprehensive Plan to avoid piecemeal amendments and last minute negotiations; and

WHEREAS, in economic development negotiations companies have the right to have proprietary information not immediately open to the public. We will respect those laws in the process of negotiations; NOW, THEREFORE,
