Additional Backup Information

This contract with Great Communicate, LLC of Austin, TX and Concept Development and Planning, LLC of Austin, TX will provide services to inform, educate and instruct organizations in and around Austin about implementing Zero Waste programs and establishing recycling services that comply with the City of Austin's Universal Recycling Ordinance (URO).

The URO (Ord. No. 20101104-018) was adopted on November 4, 2010 and currently requires businesses with 100 or more employees and multi-family residential properties with more than 100 dwelling units to provide on-site recycling services. Effective October 1, 2012, multi-family residential properties of greater than 75 dwelling units and commercial properties of greater than or equal to 100,000 sq. ft. will be required to establish on-site recycling services. In subsequent years, additional premises will be required to provide the same services in annual phases based upon the size of the properties (the number of dwelling units for residential and square footage for commercial).

The contractors will provide a variety of technical assistance and educational services to aid these establishments in their efforts to implement on-site recycling services.

Concept Development & Planning (CD&P)

Related to the scope of this contract, CD&P team members have a broad base of experience promoting behavior change through sustainability programs. In addition, they have experience educating employees (including in Spanish) and tracking and analyzing the results from their efforts. They have previously worked with a wide range of organizations in the Austin area on this type of outreach project.

Great Communicate (GC)

GC's principal has a great deal of experience with environmental outreach programs, including founding the environmental communications program at Dell and helping develop their computer recovery and recycling programs and policies. GC continues to support computer recycling through the Dell Reconnect program and Goodwill affiliates across the country. Under a current contract with Austin Resource Recovery, GC is educating the businesses in the Austin Downtown Recycling and Trash District about the recent switch to single-stream recycling in their alley dumpster service. GC is also under contract with Keep America Beautiful to help promote America Recycles Day.
