Exhibit D

RESTRICTIVE COVENANT RUNNING WITH THE LAND

Date: December 31, 1996

Owner: ANDERSON COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION, a Texas non-profit corporation

Address: 1914-B East Twelfth Street (78702)
Austin, Travis County, Texas

Consideration: ONE AND NO/100 DOLLAR ($1.00) and other good and valuable consideration paid by the Austin Housing Finance Corporation to the Owner, the receipt and sufficiency of which is acknowledged.

Affordability Period: If for rental use, twenty (20) years following completion of the project and issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy; if for homeownership use, 5 years where the amount of HOME funds provided is less than $15,000, 10 years where the amount of HOME funds provided is $15,000 to $40,000, and 15 years where the amount of HOME funds provided is greater than $40,000 following completion of the improvements to the Property and issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy.

Property: The certain real property more particularly described on Exhibit "A" attached to this Restrictive Covenant and by this reference incorporated in it, all fixtures and improvements situated thereon and all rights, titles and interests appurtenant thereto.

WHEREAS, the Owner of the Property and the Austin Housing Finance Corporation (the "Austin HFC") have agreed that the Property should be impressed with certain covenants and restrictions as conditions of entering into a CBDO Grant Agreement with City of Austin, dated July 17, 1995, amended on August 30, 1995, further amended on March 22, 1996, and further amended on December 20, 1996, (the "CHDO Agreement"), secured by the Property under Title I of the United States Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (codified at 42 U.S.C. 3535(d) and 5301, et seq.), and Title II of the Cranston Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act, Public Law 101-625 (codified at 42 U.S.C. 12701, et seq.), as approved November 28, 1990, and any subsequent amendments thereto;

NOW, THEREFORE, it is declared that the Owner of the Property, for the consideration, shall hold, sell and convey the Property, subject to the following covenants and restrictions impressed upon the Property by this restrictive covenant. These covenants and restrictions shall run with the land, and shall be binding on the Owner of the Property, its heirs, successors, and assigns.

1. If the Property is used as rental housing and provided paragraph 3.A of this restrictive covenant does not apply, the Property shall remain affordable housing as required by 24 Code of Federal Regulations (the "C.F.R.") §92.252 (the "rental affordability requirements") for the affordability period. To remain affordable rental housing under the affordability requirements the property:
 - A. shall bear rents not greater than the lesser of:
 - (1) the fair market rent for existing housing for comparable units in the area as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (the "HUD") under 24 C.F.R. §888.111, less the monthly allowance for the utilities and services (excluding telephone) to be paid by the tenant; or

- (2) a rent that does not exceed 30 percent of the adjusted income of a family whose gross income equals 65 percent of the median income for the area, as determined by HUD, with adjustment for number of bedrooms in the unit, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 65 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD's findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes. In determining the maximum monthly rent that may be charged for a unit that is subject to this limitation, the owner or participating jurisdiction must subtract a monthly allowance for any utilities and services (excluding telephone) to be paid by the tenant. HUD will provide average occupancy per unit and adjusted income assumptions to be used in calculating the maximum rent allowed under this paragraph A.(2); and the qualifying rent established for the property under this paragraph may be adjusted by HUD only if HUD finds: (x) that an adjustment is necessary to support the continued financial viability of the property and (y) only by an amount that HUD determines is necessary to maintain continued financial viability of the property;

- B. has, if the property has three or more rental units, or if the owner has multiple one or two unit properties with three or more rental units, not less than 20 percent of the rental units:
- (1) occupied by very low-income families (which is defined by 24 C.F.R. §92.2 as families whose annual as defined by 24 C.F.R. part 813 do not exceed 50 percent of the median family income for the area, as determined by HUD with adjustments for smaller and larger families, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 50 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes) who pay as a contribution toward rent (excluding any federal or state rental subsidy provided on behalf of the family) not more than 30 percent of the gross income of a family whose income equals 50 percent of the median income for the area, as determined by HUD, with adjustment for smaller and larger families, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 50 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes. In determining the maximum monthly rent that may be charged for a unit that is subject to this limitation, the owner must subtract a monthly allowance for any utilities and services (excluding telephone) to be paid by the tenant. HUD will provide Austin HPC, and Austin HPC will provide Owner average occupancy per unit assumptions to be used in calculating the maximum rent allowed under this paragraph;
- C. is occupied only by households that qualify as low-income families (which is defined by 24 C.F.R. §92.2 as families whose annual as defined by 24 C.F.R. part 813 do not exceed 80 percent of the median family income for the area, as determined by HUD with adjustments for smaller and larger families, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 80 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes);
- D. is not refused for leasing to a holder of a certificate of family participation under 24 C.F.R. part 882 (HUD's Rental Certificate Program) or a rental voucher under 24 C.F.R. part 887 (HUD's Rental Voucher Program) or to the holder of a comparable document evidencing participation in a HUD HOME tenant-based assistance program because of the status of the prospective tenant as a holder of such certificate of family participation, rental voucher, or comparable HUD HOME tenant-based assistance document; and
- E. Austin HPC must review and approve rents proposed by owner for units subject to maximum rent limitations in paragraphs 1.A.(1), 1.A.(2), and 1.B.(2) of this restrictive covenant, and, if applicable, must review and approve, for all units subject to paragraph 1.A, the monthly allowances, proposed by owner, for utilities and services to be paid by tenant. The owner must re-examine the income of each tenant household living on the property at least annually. The maximum monthly rent must be recalculated by owner and reviewed and approved by Austin HPC annually, and may change as changes in the applicable gross rent amounts, the income adjustments, or the monthly allowance for utilities and services warrant. Any increase in rents for lower-income units is subject to the provisions of outstanding leases, and before owner implements any increase in rents, owner must provide tenants of those units notice before implementing any increase in rents.

2. If the Property is used as homeownership housing and provided paragraph 3.A of this restrictive covenant does not apply, the Property shall remain affordable housing as required by 24 Code of Federal Regulations (the "C.F.R.") §92.254 (the "homeownership affordability requirements") for the affordability period. To remain affordable homeownership housing under the affordability requirements the property:

- A.
 - (1) shall have an initial purchase price that does not exceed 95% of the median purchase price for the type of single-family housing (1- to 4-family residence, condominium unit, cooperative unit, combination manufactured home and lot, or manufactured home lot) for the jurisdiction as determined by HUD, and
 - (2) shall have an estimated appraised value at sale, if standard, or after any repair needed to meet property standards in 24 CFR §92.251, that does not exceed the limit described in 2.A.(1);
 - B. is, at the time of subsequent purchase, the principal residence of an owner whose family qualifies as a HUD low-income family as defined at 24 CFR §92.2;
 - C. is made available for initial purchase only to a first-time buyers as defined at 24 CFR §92.2; and
 - D. is subject to resale restrictions or recapture provisions for the affordability period that either:
 - (1) make the property available for subsequent purchase only to a low-income family that will use the property as its principal residence; and
 - (a) provide the previous owner with a fair return on their investment, including any improvements, as determined by Austin HFC in its sole discretion, and
 - (b) ensure that the housing will remain affordable to a reasonable range of low-income homebuyers, as determined by Austin HFC in its sole discretion; or
 - (2) recapture the full HOME investment out of the net proceeds (net proceeds means the sales price minus loan repayment and closing costs), except if the net proceeds are not sufficient to recapture the full HOME investment, which in such event the HOME investment amount may be reduced prorate based on the time the homeowner owned and occupied the property measured against the required affordability period, provided the recapture so calculated will not result in the homeowner recovering more than the amount of homeowner's downpayment, principal payments, and any capital improvements made to the Property.
3. A. Upon foreclosure by a lender or other transfer in lieu of foreclosure, the affordability period shall be suspended if the foreclosure by a lender or other transfer in lieu of foreclosure recognizes any contractual or legal rights of public agencies, non-profit sponsors, or others to take actions that would avoid termination of low-income affordability. However, if at any time following transfer by foreclosure or transfer in lieu of foreclosure, but still during the term of the affordability period, the owner, any newly formed entity that includes owner, or those whom owner has or had family or business ties, obtains an ownership interest in the property, the affordability period shall be revived according to its original terms.
- B. Despite a temporary non-compliance with paragraphs 1.B and 1.C of this restrictive covenant, if the non-compliance is caused by increases in the incomes of existing tenants and if actions satisfactory to HUD, as evidenced in writing, are being taken to ensure that all vacancies are filled in accordance with this restrictive covenant until the non-compliance is corrected, the property will continue to qualify as affordable housing. Unless the property has been allocated low-income housing tax credit by a housing credit agency pursuant to section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 United States Code 42), tenants who no longer qualify as low-income families must pay as rent the lesser of:

- (1) the amount payable by the tenant under state or local law, or
 - (2) 30 percent of the family's adjusted monthly income, as defined in 24 C.F.R. part 883 and as recertified annually.
- C. Purchase and/or rehabilitation of a manufactured housing unit qualifies as affordable rental or homeownership housing only if, at the time of project completion, the unit:
- (1) is situated on a permanent foundation;
 - (2) is connected to permanent utility hook-ups;
 - (3) is located on land that is held in a fee-simple title, land-trust, or long-term ground lease with a term at least equal to that of the affordability period;
 - (4) meets the construction standards established under 24 C.F.R. 3280; and
 - (5) meets all requirements of this restrictive covenant.
4. If there are any changes in applicable laws or authorities, it is expressly understood and agreed that the changes are automatically incorporated in this Restrictive Covenant without specific reference.
 5. If any person or entity shall violate or attempt to violate this agreement and covenant, it shall be lawful for the Owner or Austin HPC to prosecute proceedings at law or in equity against such person or entity violating or attempting to violate such agreement or covenant, to prevent the person or entity from such actions, and to collect damages for such actions.
 6. If any part of this agreement or covenant is declared invalid, by judgment or court order, the same shall in no way affect any of the other provisions of this agreement, and such remaining portion of this agreement shall remain in full effect.
 7. If at any time the Owner or Austin HPC fails to enforce this agreement, whether or not any violations of it are known, such failure shall not constitute a waiver or estoppel of the right to enforce it.
 8. This agreement may be modified, amended, or terminated only by joint action of both (a) a majority of the members of the Board of Directors of the Austin HPC, and (b) by the owner(s) of the Property at the time of such modification, amendment or termination, and provided any modification, amendment, or termination is in compliance with the affordability requirements.

When the context requires, singular nouns and pronouns include the plural.
