On December 10, 2012, the Texas Attorney General issued an opinion concluding that City Code Chapter 25-1, Article 12 (Project Duration) violates the state vested rights law codified at Chapter 245 of the Local Government Code. The city adopted the Project Duration ordinance in 1997, during a two-year period when state vested rights legislation was no longer in effect. The ordinance established a set of rules and deadlines for development projects to retain vested rights to earlier regulations.

This ordinance would repeal Project Duration. The ordinance would also amend the City's rules for "Dormant Projects," codified at Section 25-1-552 (Expiration of Pamits and Projects), to better align with the current state law on dormancy. Project dormancy is a tool authorized under Chapter 245 that allows municipalities to terminate vested rights for projects that have failed to make progress towards completion as defined under the statute.

Additionally, to improve and clarify the overall process for review of vested rights applications, this ordinance would initiate a larger review of existing procedures and authorizes the City Manager to develop a separate proposed ordinance regarding the Chapter 245 process. As part of this effort, the City Manager is directed to consider the ordinances and procedures used by other cities.

Finally, this ordinance waives commission review under Chapter 25-1-502 (Amendment; Review) and provides for emergency passage in order to make the amendments effective immediately.

ORDINANCE NO.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CITY CODE CHAPTER 25-1 RELATING TO PROJECT DURATION AND PROJECT DORMANCY; INITIATING CODE AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER 25-1 RELATING TO VESTED RIGHTS APPLICATIONS; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF AUSTIN:

- PART 1. City Code Chapter 25-1 (General Requirements and Procedures) is amended to repeal Article 12 (Project Duration).
- PART 2. City Code Section 25-1-552 (Expiration of Permits and Projects) is amended to read:

§ 25-1-552 EXPIRATION OF PERMITS AND PROJECTS.

- (A) A permit expires on May 11, 2004 if the director determines that:
 - (1) the permit did not have an expiration date; and
 - (2) no progress had been made towards completion of the project.
- (B) A project expires if no progress towards completion has been made within five years of the date that the first permit application for the project was submitted.
- (C) Progress towards completion of the project shall include [includes] any one [or more] of the following:
 - (1) an application for a final plat or plan is submitted to a regulatory agency;
 - (2) a good-faith attempt is made to file with a regulatory agency an application for a permit necessary to begin or continue towards completion of the project;
 - (3) costs have been incurred for developing the project including, without limitation, costs associated with roadway, utility, and other infrastructure facilities designed to serve, in whole or in part, the project (but exclusive of land acquisition) in the aggregate amount of five percent of the most recent appraised market value of the real property on which the project is located;
 - (4) fiscal security is posted with a regulatory agency to ensure performance of an obligation required by the regulatory agency; or

- (5) utility connection fees or impact fees for the project have been paid to a regulatory agency.
- [(C) If all permits for a-project expire, the project expires.]

PART 3. The city council initiates amendments to Title 25 (Land Development) of the City Code to clarify and improve the review procedures and criteria for applications asserting vested rights under Chapter 245 of the Local Government Code. In preparing a proposed ordinance for consideration by council, the city manager should consider the ordinances and procedures used by other cities.

PART 4. The city council finds that clarifying the requirements for vested rights applications under Chapter 245 of the Local Government Code constitutes an emergency. Because of this emergency, this ordinance takes effect immediately upon its passage for the immediate preservation of the public peace, public health, and safety,

Request to postpone or vote "no" on Agenda Item No. 18, a proposed ordinance RE: amending the City's project duration ordinance and "declaring an emergency"

Dear Mayor Leffingwell, Mayor Pro Tem Cole and Members of Council:

Please postpone any action on your Agenda Item 18, a proposed ordinance amending the city's project duration ordinance and "declaring an emergency."

In the alternative, we ask that you vote "no" on the proposed ordinance until there is sufficient time for the community and, at minimum, the City's Planning Commission, to review and comment on the proposal before a decision is made.

The proposed amendment, if approved, would have far reaching effects on the City's ability to manage growth and to protect water quality, public health, safety and the environment. Such a giant leap should not be made without careful deliberation and the consideration of both the consequences of such an action and potential alternatives to the proposed action.

We are aware that in a recent Opinion the Attorney General has stated, with regard to the City's current expirations, that "A court would likely conclude that the Ordinance provisions about which you ask are void because they conflict with chapter 245 of the Local Government Code." The opinion was based on a general hypothetical question without regard to such facts as whether a particular expiration was in effect prior to the first application pertaining to a particular project. The opinion is the sort of advisory opinion in the absence of any facts or dispute that our courts are forbidden to consider. No rash action based on the opinion is justified.

We are not aware of any emergency that would warrant bypassing the normal City ordinance adoption process and declaring an "emergency." Neither the ordinance nor the backup have provided evidence of any such emergency. We see no significant harm that would flow from a postponement of a few weeks; conversely, the consequences of acting hastily could be severe and far reaching in both time and harm done to Austin's public health, safety and welfare.. The actual results of the proposed action have not, as far as we know, been evaluated by staff or interested stakeholders.

Finally, we note that as project sponsors claim "grandfathering" for decades on end, the legal arguments against what is, in effect, perpetual grandfathering, grow stronger. This is especially true as our water resources are increasingly threatened with pollution and unsustainable uses.

As attorneys with extensive legal experience with Chapter 245 or environmental issues, we ask that you postpone action for at least a few weeks. We are committed to providing you with further input and alternatives for your consideration if the opportunity is provided.

Thank you for your consideration,

Opinion No. GA-0980

Re: Whether a "project duration ordinance" adopted by the City of Austin contravenes section 245.005 of the Local Government Code (RQ-1070-GA)

Dear Representative Oliveira:

You inquire about a potential conflict between the City of Austin's Project Duration Ordinance ("Ordinance") and chapter 245 of the Local Government Code. You contend that the Ordinance violates chapter 245 by establishing expiration criteria for building projects that differ from the expiration criteria specified in chapter 245. Request Letter at 3-4. The Ordinance provisions about which you ask are contained in the Austin City Code as sections 25-1-533(B), 25-1-535(B)(4), and 25-1-535(C)(3). See Request Letter at 3. Section 25-1-533(B) provides that:

[i]f a building permit for a building shown on a site plan or a notice of construction expires before construction begins, the project, including the preliminary subdivision plan, expires. If all building permits are not obtained or a notice of construction is not filed within the time periods contained in . . . [section] 25-1-535 . . . , the project, including the preliminary subdivision, expires.

AUSTIN CITY CODE § 25-1-533(B). Section 25-1-535(B)(4) applies in the City's "Drinking Water Protection Zone" and provides that:

¹See Letter from Honorable René Oliveira, Chair, House Comm. on Land & Res. Mgmt., to Honorable Greg Abbott, Tex. Att'y Gen. at 1 (June 22, 2012), http://www.texasattorneygeneral.gov/opin ("Request Letter").

²The City of Austin informs us that it does not enforce certain provisions of the Ordinance. See Brief from Brent D. Lloyd, Assistant City Att'y, City of Austin Law Dep't at 2 (July 30, 2012) (attaching affidavit of Greg Guernsey, Dir. of Planning & Dev. Review, which identifies provisions no longer enforced) ("City of Austin Brief"). The provisions the City asserts it still enforces are the same provisions that you specifically cite to in your request letter. Thus, we assume that you are concerned about only sections 25-1-533(B), 25-1-535(B)(4), and 25-1-535(C)(3) of the Austin City Code. See Austin, Tex., Austin City Code ch. 25-1, art. 12, §§ 25-1-533(B), 25-1-535(B)(4), (C)(3) (2012).

[a]n application for a project for which the first application was filed on or after September 6, 1997, may comply with original regulations if all building permits are approved and a notice of construction is filed within three years of the date the first application is filed.

Id. § 25-1-535(B)(4). Section 25-1-535(C)(3) applies in the City's "Desired Development Zone" and provides that:

[a]n application for a project for which the first application is filed on or after September 6, 1997, may comply with original regulations if all building permits are approved and a notice of construction is filed within five years of the date the first application is filed.

See id. § 25-1-535(C)(3).3

Home-rule cities, such as Austin, derive their powers from the Texas Constitution. Tex. Const. art. XI, § 5; Tex. Loc. Gov't Code Ann. § 51.072 (West 2008). They possess "the full power of self government and look to the Legislature not for grants of power, but only for limitations on their power." Dallas Merchant's & Concessionaire's Ass'n v. City of Dallas, 852 S.W.2d 489, 490–91 (Tex. 1993).

The Texas Constitution prohibits a city ordinance from containing "any provision inconsistent with... the general laws enacted by the Legislature of this State." Tex. Const. art. XI, § 5(a); see also City of Fort Worth v. Atlas Enters., 311 S.W.2d 922, 924 (Tex. Civ. App.—Fort Worth 1958, writ ref'd n.r.e.) (discussing severability of municipal ordinances and stating that "[a] municipal ordinance may be void as to some of its provisions and valid as to others"). A court would not invalidate an ordinance as inconsistent with a statute unless the court can reach no reasonable construction that leaves both the ordinance and the statute in effect. In re Sanchez, 81 S.W.3d 794, 796 (Tex. 2002). Nevertheless, "an ordinance which conflicts or is inconsistent with state legislation is impermissible." City of Brookside Vill. v. Comeau, 633 S.W.2d 790, 796 (Tex.), cert. denied, 459 U.S. 1087 (1982).

Chapter 245 of the Local Government Code is a legislative limit on cities' home-rule power to regulate construction and development within their jurisdiction. The statute "prohibit[s] land-use regulators from changing the rules governing development projects 'in the middle of the game,' thereby insulating already underway development and related investment from the vicissitudes and uncertainties of regulatory decision making and all that may influence it." Harper Park Two, LP v. City of Austin, 359 S.W.3d 247, 250 (Tex. App.—Austin 2011, pet. denied). Subsection 245.002(b) provides that "[i]f a series of permits is required for a project, the orders, regulations, ³The Municipal Code defines "Drinking Water Protection Zone" as "the areas within the Barton Springs Zone, the Barton Creek watershed, all water supply rural watersheds, and all water supply suburban watersheds... that are in the planning jurisdiction." Id. § 25-1-21(30). The "Desired Development Zone means the area not within the drinking water protection zone." Id. § 25-1-21(26).

ordinances, rules, expiration dates, or other properly adopted requirements in effect at the time the original application for the first permit in that series is filed shall be the sole basis for consideration of all subsequent permits required for the completion of the project." Tex. Loc. Gov't Code Ann. § 245.002(b) (West 2005). The effect of the statute is that "once an application for the first permit required to complete a property-development 'project' is filed with the municipality or other agency that regulates such use of the property, the agency's regulations applicable to the 'project' are effectively 'frozen' in their then-current state and the agency is prohibited from enforcing subsequent regulatory changes to further restrict the property's use." Harper Park Two, LP, 359 S.W.3d at 248–49.

Section 245.005, entitled "Dormant Projects," authorizes cities to enact ordinances that expire projects when "no progress has been made towards completion of the project." Tex. Loc. Gov't Code Ann. § 245.005(b) (West 2005); see id. § 245.005(c) (providing a list of factors used to determine whether progress is being made toward the completion of a project). A project's "expiration" necessarily results in the project losing the "frozen" rights granted by chapter 245. Although the Legislature has permitted cities to expire projects that meet the statutory criteria for dormancy, it has not provided any further authority under which cities may cause a project to lose the rights granted by chapter 245. As a result, any project expiration ordinance that does not comport with section 245.005's dormancy criteria conflicts with chapter 245.

Section 245.005 provides:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any ordinance, rule, or regulation enacted pursuant to this section shall place an expiration date on a project of no earlier than the fifth anniversary of the date the first permit application was filed for the project if no progress has been made towards completion of the project.

Id. § 245.005(b). Under the Ordinance, a project's expiration date could be sooner than five years after the filing of the first permit application. AUSTIN CITY CODE § 25-1-533(B). Under the statute, however, a project's expiration date must be no earlier than five years after the filing of the first permit application. Tex. Loc. Gov't Code Ann. § 245.005(b) (West 2005). Thus, the Ordinance's expiration periods conflict with those of the statute. Similarly, under the Ordinance, a project would expire if "all building permits are not obtained or a notice of construction is not filed within the time periods" established by the city. AUSTIN CITY CODE § 25-1-533(B). However, under the statute, a project may not expire unless it meets the dormancy criteria contained in section 245.005. Tex. Loc. Gov't Code Ann. § 245.005(c)(2) (West 2005). The failure to obtain all building permits or file a notice of construction within a time period set by the city is not one of the criteria set forth in section 245.005. Thus, the Ordinance's criteria for expiring a project conflicts with that of the statute. See In re Sanchez, 81 S.W.3d at 796.4

extent it causes
05 of the Local

Accordingly, a court would likely conclude that the Ordinance is void to the extent it causes a project to expire sooner than it would under the provisions of section 245.005 of the Local Government Code. Likewise, a court would likely conclude that the Ordinance is void to the extent it causes a project to expire regardless of whether the project meets the section 245.005 criteria for progress towards completion of the project.⁵

Brief at 3; Brief from Scott N. Houston, General Counsel, Texas Municipal League at 2 (Aug. 9, 2012). No Texas court has addressed this issue, and we need not address it here. The argument is unavailing to our consideration because the Ordinance results in the expiration of projects, not permits. The rights guaranteed to projects by chapter 245 continue to apply regardless of the expiration of individual permits within a project.

Fit has been suggested in briefing submitted to this office that, because the Ordinance became effective on September 6, 1997, it is in violation of sections 2 and 3(a) of House Bill 1704 enacted in 1999. See Brief from Andrew Weber, Kelly Hart & Hallman, on behalf of the Real Estate Council of Austin at 2-4 (June 29, 2012). See also Act of Apr. 29, 1999, 76th Leg., R.S., ch. 73, §§ 1(a), 2, 1999 Tex. Gen. Laws 431, 432, 434 (eff. May 11, 1999) (finding that former subchapter I, chapter 481 of the Government Code "was inadvertently repealed" and adding chapter 245). House Bill 1704 provides that chapter 245 applies retroactively to a "project in progress on or commenced after September I, 1997" and that "any actions taken by a regulatory agency for the issuance of a permit, as those terms are defined by Section 245.001, Local Government Code, ... after that repeal and before the effective date of this Act, shall not cause or require the expiration or termination of a project, permit, or series of permits to which Section 2 of this Act applies." Id. §§ 2, 3(a). We do not address the question because we have concluded that the Ordinance conflicts with chapter 245.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT CODE

TITLE 7. REGULATION OF LAND USE, STRUCTURES, BUSINESSES, AND RELATED ACTIVITIES

SUBTITLE C. REGULATORY AUTHORITY APPLYING TO MORE THAN ONE TYPE OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT

CHAPTER 245. ISSUANCE OF LOCAL PERMITS

Sec. 245.001. DEFINITIONS. In this chapter:

- (1) "Permit" means a license, certificate, approval, registration, consent, permit, contract or other agreement for construction related to, or provision of, service from a water or wastewater utility owned, operated, or controlled by a regulatory agency, or other form of authorization required by law, rule, regulation, order, or ordinance that a person must obtain to perform an action or initiate, continue, or complete a project for which the permit is sought.
- (2) "Political subdivision" means a political subdivision of the state, including a county, a school district, or a municipality.
- (3) "Project" means an endeavor over which a regulatory agency exerts its jurisdiction and for which one or more permits are required to initiate, continue, or complete the endeavor.
- (4) "Regulatory agency" means the governing body of, or a bureau, department, division, board, commission, or other agency of, a political subdivision acting in its capacity of processing, approving, or issuing a permit.

Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999. Amended by:

Acts 2005, 79th Leg., Ch. 6, Sec. 1, eff. April 27, 2005.

Sec. 245.002. UNIFORMITY OF REQUIREMENTS. (a) Each regulatory agency shall consider the approval, disapproval, or conditional approval of an application for a permit solely on the basis of any orders, regulations, ordinances, rules, expiration dates, or other properly adopted requirements in effect at the time:

- (1) the original application for the permit is filed for review for any purpose, including review for administrative completeness; or
- (2) a plan for development of real property or plat application is filed with a regulatory agency.
- (a-1) Rights to which a permit applicant is entitled under this chapter accrue on the filing of an original application or plan for development or plat application that gives the regulatory agency fair notice of the project and the nature of the permit sought. An application or plan is considered filed on the date the applicant delivers the application or plan to the regulatory agency or deposits the application or plan with the United States Postal Service by certified mail addressed to the regulatory agency. A certified mail receipt obtained by the applicant at the time of deposit is prima facie evidence of the date the application or plan was deposited with the United States Postal Service.
- (b) If a series of permits is required for a project, the orders, regulations, ordinances, rules, expiration dates, or other properly adopted requirements in effect at the time the original application for the first permit in that series is filed shall be the sole basis for consideration of all subsequent permits required for the completion of the project. All permits required for the project are considered to be a single series of permits. Preliminary plans and related subdivision plats, site plans, and all other development permits for land covered by the preliminary plans or subdivision plats are considered collectively to be one series of permits for a project.
- (c) After an application for a project is filed, a regulatory agency may not shorten the duration of any permit required for the project.
- (d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, a permit holder may take advantage of recorded subdivision plat notes, recorded restrictive covenants required by a regulatory agency, or a change to the laws, rules, regulations, or ordinances of a regulatory agency that enhance or protect the project, including changes that lengthen the effective life of the permit after the date the application for the permit was made, without forfeiting any rights under this chapter.

- (e) A regulatory agency may provide that a permit application expires on or after the 45th day after the date the application is filed if:
- (1) the applicant fails to provide documents or other information necessary to comply with the agency's technical requirements relating to the form and content of the permit application;
- (2) the agency provides to the applicant not later than the 10th business day after the date the application is filed written notice of the failure that specifies the necessary documents or other information and the date the application will expire if the documents or other information is not provided; and
- (3) the applicant fails to provide the specified documents or other information within the time provided in the notice.
- (f) This chapter does not prohibit a regulatory agency from requiring compliance with technical requirements relating to the form and content of an application in effect at the time the application was filed even though the application is filed after the date an applicant accrues rights under Subsection (a-1).
- (g) Notwithstanding Section 245.003, the change in law made to Subsection (a) and the addition of Subsections (a-1), (e), and (f) by S.B. No. 848, Acts of the 79th Legislature, Regular Session, 2005, apply only to a project commenced on or after the effective date of that Act.

Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999. Amended by:

Acts 2005, 79th Leg., Ch. 6, Sec. 2, eff. April 27, 2005.

Sec. 245.003. APPLICABILITY OF CHAPTER. This chapter applies only to a project in progress on or commenced after September 1, 1997. For purposes of this chapter a project was in progress on September 1, 1997, if:

- (1) before September 1, 1997:
 - (A) a regulatory agency approved or issued one or more permits for the project; or

- (B) an application for a permit for the project was filed with a regulatory agency; and
- (2) on or after September 1, 1997, a regulatory agency enacts, enforces, or otherwise imposes:
- (A) an order, regulation, ordinance, or rule that in effect retroactively changes the duration of a permit for the project;
- (B) a deadline for obtaining a permit required to continue or complete the project that was not enforced or did not apply to the project before September 1, 1997; or
- (C) any requirement for the project that was not applicable to or enforced on the project before September 1, 1997.

 Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999.

Sec. 245.004. EXEMPTIONS. This chapter does not apply to:

- (1) a permit that is at least two years old, is issued for the construction of a building or structure intended for human occupancy or habitation, and is issued under laws, ordinances, procedures, rules, or regulations adopting only:
- (A) uniform building, fire, electrical, plumbing, or mechanical codes adopted by a recognized national code organization; or
- (B) local amendments to those codes enacted solely to address imminent threats of destruction of property or injury to persons;
- (2) municipal zoning regulations that do not affect landscaping or tree preservation, open space or park dedication, property classification, lot size, lot dimensions, lot coverage, or building size or that do not change development permitted by a restrictive covenant required by a municipality;
- (3) regulations that specifically control only the use of land in a municipality that does not have zoning and that do not affect landscaping or tree preservation, open space or park dedication, lot size, lot dimensions, lot coverage, or building size;
 - (4) regulations for sexually oriented businesses;
 - (5) municipal or county ordinances, rules, regulations,

or other requirements affecting colonias;

- (6) fees imposed in conjunction with development permits;
- (7) regulations for annexation that do not affect landscaping or tree preservation or open space or park dedication;
 - (8) regulations for utility connections;
- (9) regulations to prevent imminent destruction of property or injury to persons from flooding that are effective only within a flood plain established by a federal flood control program and enacted to prevent the flooding of buildings intended for public occupancy;
- (10) construction standards for public works located on public lands or easements; or
- (11) regulations to prevent the imminent destruction of property or injury to persons if the regulations do not:
- (A) affect landscaping or tree preservation, open space or park dedication, lot size, lot dimensions, lot coverage, building size, residential or commercial density, or the timing of a project; or
- (B) change development permitted by a restrictive covenant required by a municipality.

Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999. Amended by Acts 2003, 78th Leg., ch. 646, Sec. 1.

Amended by:

Acts 2005, 79th Leg., Ch. 31, Sec. 1, eff. September 1, 2005.

Sec. 245.005. DORMANT PROJECTS. (a) After the first anniversary of the effective date of this chapter, a regulatory agency may enact an ordinance, rule, or regulation that places an expiration date on a permit if as of the first anniversary of the effective date of this chapter: (i) the permit does not have an expiration date; and (ii) no progress has been made towards completion of the project. Any ordinance, rule, or regulation enacted pursuant to this subsection shall place an expiration date of no earlier than the fifth anniversary of the effective date of this chapter.

(b) A regulatory agency may enact an ordinance, rule, or regulation that places an expiration date of not less than two years on an individual permit if no progress has been made towards completion of the project. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any ordinance, rule, or regulation enacted pursuant to this section shall place an expiration date on a project of no earlier than the fifth anniversary of the date the first permit application was filed for the project if no progress has been made towards completion of the project. Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to affect the timing of a permit issued solely under the authority of Chapter 366, Health and Safety Code, by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality or its authorized agent.

- (c) Progress towards completion of the project shall include any one of the following:
- (1) an application for a final plat or plan is submitted to a regulatory agency;
- (2) a good-faith attempt is made to file with a regulatory agency an application for a permit necessary to begin or continue towards completion of the project;
- (3) costs have been incurred for developing the project including, without limitation, costs associated with roadway, utility, and other infrastructure facilities designed to serve, in whole or in part, the project (but exclusive of land acquisition) in the aggregate amount of five percent of the most recent appraised market value of the real property on which the project is located;
- (4) fiscal security is posted with a regulatory agency to ensure performance of an obligation required by the regulatory agency; or
- (5) utility connection fees or impact fees for the project have been paid to a regulatory agency.

Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999. Amended by:

Acts 2005, 79th Leg., Ch. 31, Sec. 1, eff. September 1, 2005.

- Sec. 245.006. ENFORCEMENT OF CHAPTER. (a) This chapter may be enforced only through mandamus or declaratory or injunctive relief.
- (b) A political subdivision's immunity from suit is waived in regard to an action under this chapter.

Added by Acts 1999, 76th Leg., ch. 73, Sec. 2, eff. May 11, 1999. Amended by:

Acts 2005, 79th Leg., Ch. 31, Sec. 1, eff. September 1, 2005.

Sec. 245.007. CONSTRUCTION AND RENOVATION WORK ON COUNTY-OWNED BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES IN CERTAIN COUNTIES. (a) This section applies only to a building or facility that is owned by a county with a population of 3.3 million or more and is located within the boundaries of another political subdivision.

- (b) A political subdivision may not require a county to notify the political subdivision or obtain a building permit for any new construction or any renovation of a building or facility owned by the county if the construction or renovation work is supervised and inspected by an engineer or architect licensed in this state.
