

I am writing to protest the change to the size and makeup of the new proposed District 6, which is where I live. If I read the map correctly, there is now too much large industrial area and a host of small businesses lumped in with the residential area of the northwest Austin communities.

There is no way one representative could serve the varied interests of this huge, mixed use area. I look at the small "minority districts" and say - we in District 6 got the throw-away treatment; definitely the neck of the chicken! Go back to the first map!
