The attached right-of-way vacation application packet is being submitted with the sponsorship of the Austin Transportation Department.

In 2008, a right-of-way dedication was required by ATD as part of a site plan approval. The right-of-way was dedicated, but has never been constructed. In 2013, it was recognized that the alignment of the dedicated right-of-way is not optimal for future road and intersection improvements.

The abutting landowner and the City of Austin have worked together to determine a more optimal alignment for future right-of-way improvements, and wish to proceed with vacating the existing alignment in exchange for the dedication of the improved alignment.

This proposed right-of-way exchange will benefit the City of Austin, and will eliminate a “fragmenting” of the neighboring landowner’s property. The alignments are of equal square footage and equal appraised value.

Questions regarding property rights or the vacation process may be directed to Eric Hammack with the Office of Real Estate Services. Questions regarding the transportation impact may be directed to Gary Schatz with Austin Transportation Department.
