Additional Backup Information

In March 2014, City Council initiated changes to Austin’s Land Development Code to remove any impediments to the construction of micro units – efficiency units that are typically less than 400 square feet in size. Although Austin’s current code allows for the construction of these types of units, there are density caps and parking requirements that may inhibit their construction. The proposed changes will allow construction of micro units with higher densities than are currently allowed, along with a reduced parking requirement, as long as the units are located along Core Transit Corridors (CTCs) or Future CTCs, and on-site affordable units are provided.

Proposed code changes for micro units include:

- 400 sq ft site area requirement for each dwelling unit
- 0.6 on-site parking spaces required per dwelling
- Permitted on Core Transit Corridors and Future Core Transit Corridors
- Permitted in the following zoning districts: MF-1, MF-2, MF-3, MF-4, MF-5; MU combining district
- No changes to other base district site development standards
- On-site affordability required
