Parkland Dedication Applicability

- * Land Development Code requires land or fees in Sub-division Ordinance. (Code Reference:25-4-212) Ordinance adopted in 1985.

- * Applicability:

- * Sub-dividing raw land, or replatting
- * Residential land uses only: single family, multi-family including mixed use.
- * Projects that are building 5 or more lots are required to comply with PLD ordinance

- * Applicants have two options :

- Fees in lieu of land (most common)

Ordinance does not apply to:

- * Commercial properties;
- * Property redeveloping but not sub-dividing;
- * Residential subdivisions with four single family lots or less;
- * Any legal lot residential development that is not sub-divided; ie. . large lot multi-family

How does the ordinance work

- * Basic formula: 5 acres of land for every 1,000 residents.
- * If less than 5 acres are required, PARD has the option of requiring fees in lieu of land.
 - * At least 50% of the land must be of level, well drained surface suitable for activity development.
- * If PARD chooses to accept the fees; fees are based on the required value of the land.

Steiner Ranch Real Estate

Steiner Ranch is nestled in a bend of the Colorado River, just south of Lake Travis, and about ten miles west of central Austin. Wilderness abounds in this area - aside from the sparkling lake there is the Emma Long Metropolitan Park and Commons Ford Ranch Park. Steiner Ranch Austin covers an area of about 4,600 acres, with homes ranging in size from around 2,000 to over 6,000 square feet. The community has three top rated public schools within its boundaries. Steiner Ranch also has an impressive amount of amenities with two community centers, a golf course, hiking trails and a waterfront park.

Central Austin Real Estate

Right in the heart of it all! Real estate in Central Austin is diverse. Average homes in Central Austin have smaller yards, but this is balanced out by the area's many parks and public green spaces. Of course, higher end homes come with everything, including custom interior features, well landscaped yards, swimming pools, etc. There is also a very exciting new development at the site of the old Mueller Airport.

GOING GREEN

At Santa Rita Ranch, we learn from the land – including 135 acres reserved for parks and open green space. Live with piece of mind with clean water and energy conscious homes. Surrounded by the Hill Country's natural beauty, our residents experience the benefits of green living.

EXPERIENCE GREEN LIVING

Proximate Principle

Property values increase near parkland

Acres per 1,000 population is in decline

Current Parkland Dedication Fee

Quality of Life is decreasing

Current Fee < Land + Facilities

Striking a balance for existing and future residents

New Fee = Land + Facilities

Three Ways to Pay

Choices

☐ Increase taxes

☐ Lower Austin Quality of Life

☒ Development pays for itself

Staff Recommendation

Park staff recommends a structure that:

- 1) Is based on the current level of service
- 2) Is based on a per person demand instead of a per unit demand
- 3) Has a Land requirement
- 4) Has a Fee in-lieu of land
- 5) Has a Park development fee

Per Person Demand

= Low Density

= Medium Density

= High Density
