The US 183 South corridor from US 290 to SH 71 is one of Austin's most important arteries. As the primary route to and from Austin Bergstrom International Airport and points beyond, it attracts more than 60,000 cars and trucks a day. The Central Texas Regional Mobility Authority (CTRMA) and the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) have partnered to develop a reasonable and feasible approach to improve mobility that takes in to account the needs of drivers, pedestrians, transit riders, cyclists and surrounding neighbors.

The proposed Bergstrom Expressway is a combined effort of CTRMA, TxDOT, Capital Area Metropolitan Organization, City of Austin, Capital Metro and other local government agencies to develop a reasonable and feasible approach to improve mobility in the US 183 South corridor from US 290 to SH 71.

CTRMA is working on a design build for the Bergstrom Expressway widening of US 183. In connection with this project, CTRMA has made an offer to purchase a remnant portion of the City's right-of-way on US 183 adjacent to Wilcab Road and Darby Street. CTRMA has offered to purchase the approximate 0.048 acres for the appraised value of $1,460.
