

Per City Charter Article II Section 1, the Independent Citizens Redistricting Commission is empowered to divide the city into 10 geographical council districts for the election of council members. More information is available at <http://www.austintexas.gov/content/independent-citizens-redistricting-commission>.

Neighborhood planning area boundaries are separate from the Council Districts, and are instead approved by City Council and can not be changed by City Staff without Council action. They are drawn to follow logical and efficient boundaries. Neighborhood associations are considered in the boundaries, but are not always a factor in determining boundaries.
