Additional Backup Information

The contract will provide transcription and translation services of audio and video recordings for the Austin Police Department (APD), Emergency Medical Services Department (EMS), and the Austin Fire Department (AFD).

APD is required to transcribe audio and video recordings during the course of criminal and internal investigations. Recordings may consist of interviews, telephone conversations, walk-throughs, in-car audio and video footage, and any other necessary recordings. Accurate and timely transcriptions are a critical component of an investigation and used by APD personnel and related government agencies such as the District Attorney's office in preparation for trial proceedings and may be presented in court when prosecuting a case. The source material may be: compact disks (CDs), digital video disks (DVDs), digital sound files, audio and video tapes, or digital video. This service is primarily utilized by the Internal Affairs, Homicide, Cold Case, and Child Abuse Units at APD consisting of approximately 1,300 interviews annually.

EMS is required to transcribe audio during the course of internal investigations pursuant to Civil Service Law. The source material may be CDs, DVDs, digital sound files, audio and video tapes, or digital video.

AFD transcription services are used during administrative investigations. All interviews with a particular subject or witness are audio recorded and will then be transcribed via files provided by secure internet site or mail.

The solicitation was issued as a best value solicitation allowing the City to select the vendor who provided the best value. The bids were evaluated by APD and AFD staff and the evaluation team recommended Net Transcripts, Inc. as the best value based on: cost, ability to perform the scope of work, qualifications and experience, and local business presence.

The absence of this contract will limit the City's ability to conduct its daily business and will increase in the backlog of case files which will delay court actions and timely prosecutions for APD and AFD.
