

HISTORIC LANDMARK COMMISSION
MAY 23, 2016
DEMOLITION AND RELOCATION PERMITS
HDP-2016-0261
903 W. JOHANNA STREET

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1948 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, rectangular-plan, side-gabled frame house with a central, partial-width, front-gabled independent porch on ornamental metal posts; single 1:1 fenestration.

RESEARCH

The house was built in 1948 by the East End Lumber Company. The first known owners and occupants were Jose and Eloisa Castilleja, who lived here until around 1954. Jose Castilleja was a laborer for Southwestern Ice and Cold Storage; he had lived at 1007 E. 6th Street prior to his marriage and the purchase of this house. Pete and Mary Sanchez owned and occupied the house in the 1950s; he was a driver for the Colorado Building Corporation. From around 1960 until recently, the house was rented, and then owned by Emilio and Josie Cavazos, Jr. Emilio Cavazos, Jr. worked for Joe's Bakery on E. 7th Street when he and Josie moved into this house; he then went on to work at Friendly Radio and Television Service. By the early 1980s, he had purchased the building and moved its location to Mary Street from Congress Avenue in downtown Austin.

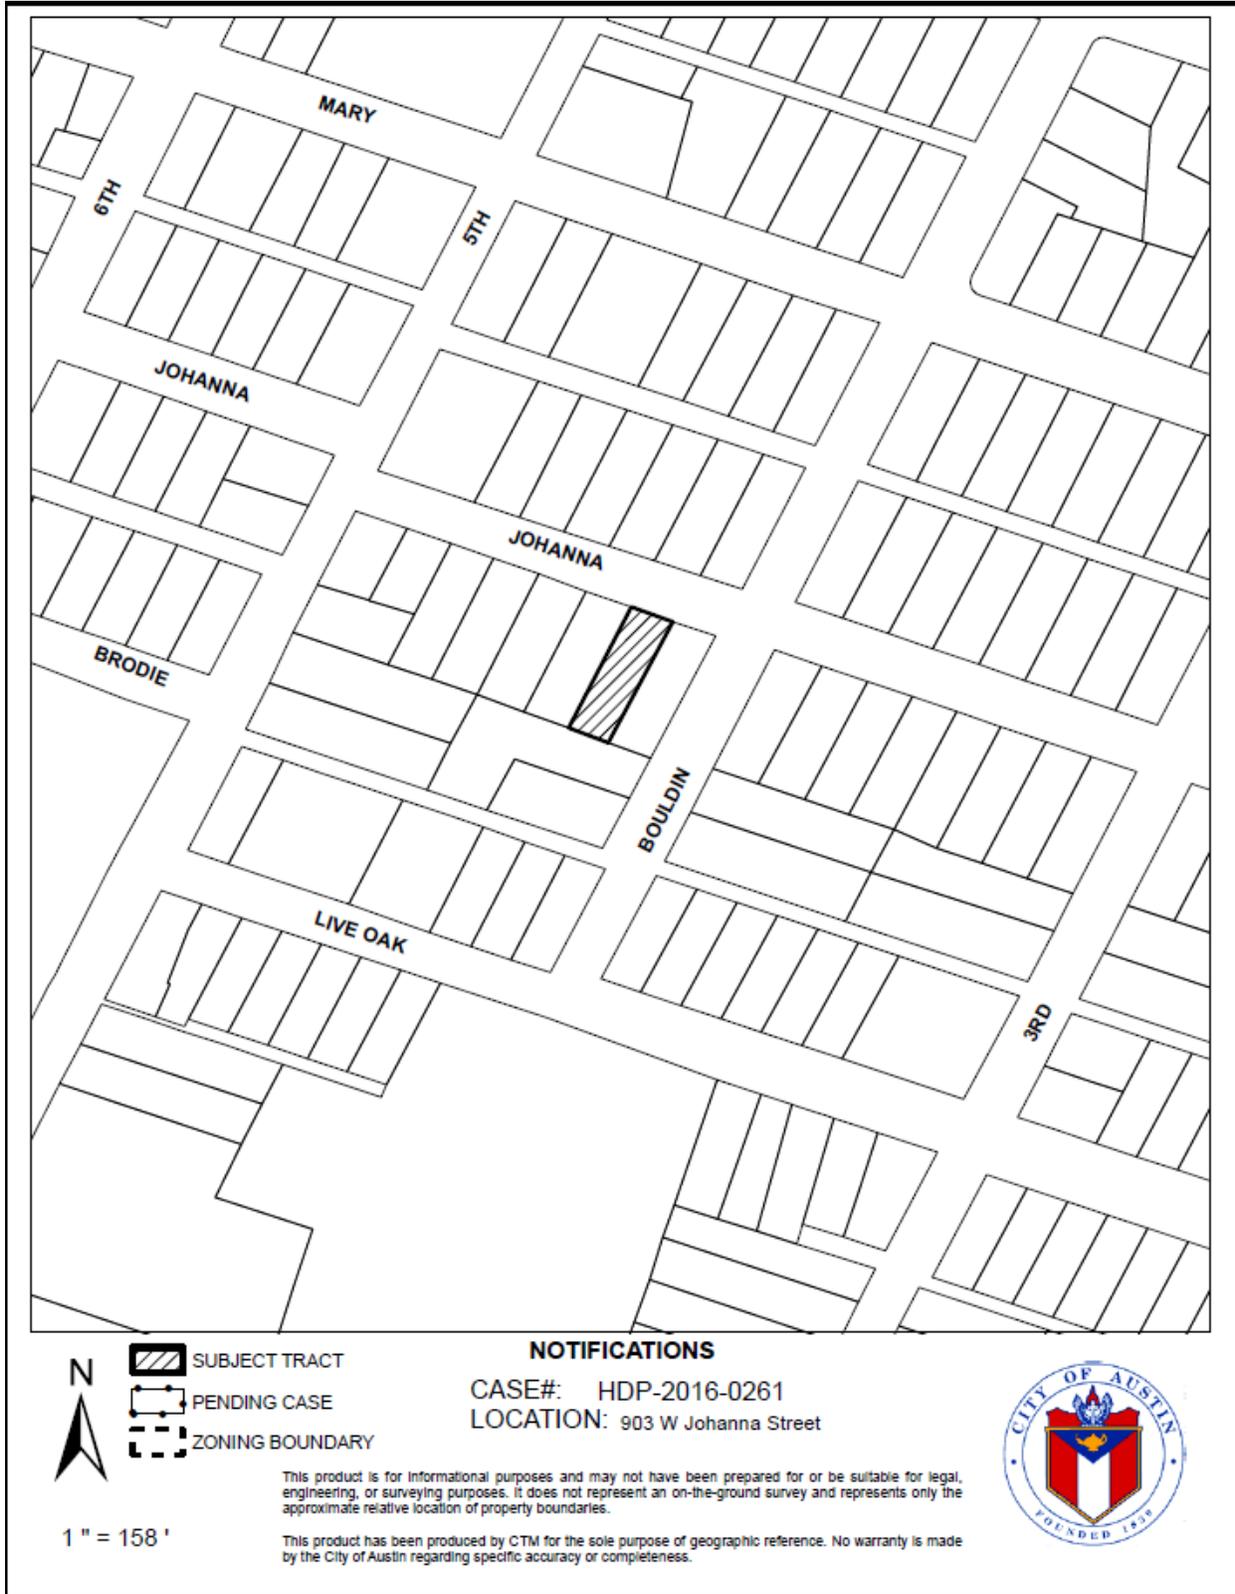

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is beyond the bounds of any City survey.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use if feasible; otherwise, release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history, for archiving at the Austin History Center. The house has neither the architectural nor the historical significance to warrant individual designation as a historic landmark.
