Guerra	Teen Pregnancy Prevention Task Force	$75,000.00	This proposal would fund a non-governmental organization to lead a community task force that would develop a five year strategic plan on teen pregnancy prevention for Travis County. This strategic plan would operationalize the recommendations in the Healthy Youth Partnerships May 2015 report, “Mixed Messages: The Current State of Teen Pregnancy Prevention in Travis County” by detailing specific strategies that stakeholders would take to create a community wide plan for teen pregnancy prevention and would include budget amounts for the different strategies. The plan would address teen pregnancy for all race/ethnicities, not just Hispanic/Latinos. The funding amount would cover staff time, refreshments for lunch and dinner meetings, materials, and strategic plan report preparation.	Llanes Pulido	Lopez-Aguilar	All

Llanes Pulido	PODER Programs: Young Scholars for Justice and “One Job at a Time” Job Readiness Program	$95,000.00	PODER’s Young Scholars for Justice Leadership Development Program develops future leaders. PODER believes it is imperative for youth to become active participants in the decision-making processes that directly affect their lives. Civic participation and community organizing provides young people the opportunity to envision and practice participatory democracy and equips them with the tools and knowledge they need to become informed, active community participants (see PODER’s Young Scholars for Justice Leadership Development Proposal for more information). The “One Job at a Time” Job Readiness program’s goal include preparing low-income job seekers to be able to qualify and compete for entry-level positions in the demand occupations found in their respective labor force areas. According to the U.S. Bureau of Statistics, the shift from goods-producing to service-industry employment continues. Thus, although the job market is still tight, the number of consumer-oriented jobs continues to increase. These are the types of jobs that require customer service and work readiness skills which this project will offer (Review “One Job at a Time” Job Readiness proposal). These three projects/programs will provide services for children, teenagers, young adults and families. These projects/programs address equity, culture and diversity; government and engagement; family support and social services; employment (Jobs) and job training; education, sustainability, preservation and environment. More importantly, education, leadership and employment (job readiness) will help lift people out of poverty. These three projects/programs will increase development and utilization of Austin’s human resources, with special emphasis on the needs of low-income and underserved population, in the areas of education, training, employment, business and economic opportunity. The Montopolis community boundaries, recognized by the City of Austin Neighborhood Planning Department, is the following; Grove Boulevard to the West, Highway 183 to the East and North, and Hwy 71 to the south (see attached Montopolis Neighborhood Plan map). Tijerina	Strategic Planning and Capacity Building Grant for CMACA to take over management of the MACC	$150,000.00	The Center for Mexican American Cultural Arts (CMACA), Inc. formed in 1998 as a direct outgrowth of the previous MACC Task Force created by the City of Austin, (COA) to offer recommendations for building a Mexican American cultural center (MACC) in Austin. CMACA was also instrumental in passing the $10.9 million bond to build the MACC. Like the Waller Creek Conservancy, the COA initially contracted CMACA to be the non-profit responsible for the operation and maintenance of a city property, e.g. the Emma S. Barrientos Mexican American Cultural Center (ESB-MACC). CMACA conducted research and planning with city staff and the community to create the final design and mission of the ESB-MACC. The city ultimately took control of the ESB-MACC project. CMACA remains a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization and is an advocate for Latino arts and culture. CMACA has sponsored arts programs like a serape weaving demonstration to children at Sanchez and Zavala elementary schools, website development that allows arts organizations to post events directly to the site, a social media presence on Facebook, and a partnership with the ESB-MACC to produce the annual Día de los Muertos celebration. Zamora	The Mexican American Museum of Popular Arts	$250,000	The Hispanic/Latino Quality of Life Advisory Commission recommends that the City of Austin create a memorandum of understanding with the Travis County Commissioners Court including a City of Austin feasibility study as a first-step in incorporating the Palm Building and 4 acre urban park as part of the revitalized Waller Creek Conservancy district park, with the Palm Building to be used as a Museum of Mexican American Heritage, Folk Art, and Indigenous Culture. This recommendation originated in community forums, namely in the community meeting held at Zaragoza Park where the concept of converting the Palm Building into a museum was proposed; likewise, at the Raza Round Table, Austin residents proposed the idea of a Museum of Mexican American Heritage, Folk Art, and Indigenous Culture. The proposal is encouraged in particular by the commitment of the Austin Friends of Folk Art (particularly its current President, Ms. Gloria Pennington) and the Indigenous Cultures Institute (especially its current chair, Dr. Mario Garza) to provide valuable materials in their collections, as well as guidance in its development. The Hispanic/Latino Quality of Life Advisory Commission agrees that Austin is located at an important geographical crossroad of ancient cultures that span the continent and the state of Texas and that communities of folk artists continue to express this important continental heritage. Exhibits, scholarly convenings and community educational activities in a museum setting could serve as a source of cultural revitalization for the Mexican American and Latino communities, as well as for the public at large, including the increasing numbers of visitors that we expect in the Waller Creek area, the Rainey Street entertainment district, and the current Emma S. Barrientos Mexican American Cultural Center (ESBMACC). The Hispanic/Latino Quality of Life Advisory Commission, however, understands that such a venture minimally requires the collaboration of the City of Austin and the Travis County Commissioners Court on the basis of an understanding of cooperation as a first step towards converting Palm School into a Museum of Mexican American Heritage, Folk Art and Indigenous Culture. The proposed feasibility study is necessary to move forward on this idea.	Lopez-Aguilar	Tijerina	All
