Hello, Leane.

This is regarding the variance requested at 2003 Arpdale, C15-2016-0084, item M-1 on the Board of Adjustment agenda for August 8. The attached PDF contains my personal letter of opposition to the variances, a history of the property, and a copy of an aerial photo, for a total of 5 pages. Please let me know if I will have to provide copies for the Board members.

I would be very grateful if you would include these pages in the Board's backup material and in the file for this case.

Many thanks,

Lorraine Atherton

Re: Variance requests C15-2016-0084, 2003 Arpdale

Dear Chairman and Board Members:

As a homeowner on Arpdale Street, I am opposed to the variances requested by Scott Jacobs at 2003 Arpdale, C15-2016-0084, to allow an outbuilding remodeled without permits to be occupied as an accessory dwelling unit.

Dimensions of the property and variances required

Based on the photographs, survey, and site plan submitted by the owner, this lot is 5514 square feet and the impervious cover is more than 60%. City Code 25-2-492 (Site development regulations) requires a minimum lot size of 5750 sf and limits this site to 45% impervious cover.

I alerted the owner and City staff to these errors on August 1 and suggested that the variance application be withdrawn, corrected to reflect the actual lot size and other dimensions, and reposted with all the variances that will be required. If the application is not withdrawn by August 8, I request that the Board of Adjustment deny the requested variances because of the substandard lot size.

Deed restrictions and single-family status

I have owned and occupied the property at 2009 Arpdale since 1983. The same deed restrictions that apply to my property apply to 2003 Arpdale. In 1939, those restrictions prohibited the use of any outbuildings as residences, and they are still in effect. I have not found any other properties in this subdivision in violation of that deed restriction. According to the documentation listed in the attached history of the property, the Travis Central Appraisal District and the City of Austin have no record of the existence of a garage or other outbuilding at 2003 Arpdale, and the property has never been classified as anything other than a single-family residence.

Construction and use of the structure

The attached aerial photo from 1966 shows a small outbuilding in the back corner of the lot. Aerial photos from 1984 and 1987 show the same structure. No aerial photos or surveys are available between 1987 and 1997. The earliest evidence of an addition to the small outbuilding is the 1997 aerial photo supplied by Mr. Jacobs. Regardless of when the addition was built, it is clear to me that it was not used as a separate dwelling before the property was sold in 2007, less than 10 years ago. The owners shared the house with two other persons, they were all listed on the same mailbox at the front door, and some of them appeared to be related.

My recollection of the remodeling of 2003 Arpdale is that the house was "re-roofed" three times in the three or four years following the sale. A great deal of work was done under CoA building permit 07-141411, dated August 6, 2007. Several color aerial photos are available from this period, beginning in 2006. They show a series of changes to the outbuilding, including the eastward extension of the roof over the deck.

Finally, TCAD recorded the sale to Jacobs in December 2012, and the CoA issued a permit for "window replacement" in January 2013. Again, from the street, it looked to me like the window replacement required a great deal of work on other parts of the property. When it was eventually completed, I was no longer able to tell who was living in the house, or if anyone was living there. It soon became clear that at least part of the property was being used as a commercial short-term rental. The attached history also lists the code enforcement cases from May 27, 2014, to March 22, 2016.

To summarize, I request that the Board deny the variances requested by Scott Jacobs at 2003 Arpdale, C15-2016-0084, first because the application contains errors that when corrected will require additional variances to satisfy the applicant's desire to create a second dwelling on his substandard lot; second, because the deed restrictions prohibit the use desired by the applicant; third, because the applicant has not established that the desired use existed before he purchased the property less than five years ago; and finally, because the application meets none of the required findings regarding reasonable use, hardship, and area character.

Thank you for your attention and for your service on the Board of Adjustment.

Sincerely yours,

L. Atherton

Leane,

Attached I submit my objection to the land development code variance for the above mentioned case and address. It is unacceptable to bend the law for Scott Jacobs. He has no regards for his neighbors and just this past weekend his short term rental brought more people honking horns and partying loudly in the middle of the night. Unfortunately his neighbors bedroom window is very close. I don't know how they get any sleep.

Please respond to confirm receipt of the attachment.

Enjoy your day!

Comments: I bought my house in 2009 after experiencing that there are reasons for zoning changes and that they would be enforced. I did not expect the neighbor to move out and then his residence into an unassisted short term rental w/ many complaints & violations etc. As the neighbor unreasonably most effected (opposite of me) especially related to how close their structure can be to my house. I am more concerned by the enforcement aspects of unpermitted structures, code comments must be returned by noon the day of the hearing in order for the Board to see them at this hearing.
