(+) CENTRAL HEALTH

TRIPLING YOUR TAX DOLLAR FOR HEALTH

For every $1 of Central Health tax revenue collected in 2016 $ = ¢¢¢¢ Central Health supports $3.59 in health care services to the residents of Travis County

Here is how Central Health does it:

LOCAL PROPERTY TAXES

$160M

Property taxes paid on Travis County homes and businesses

+

FEDERAL FUNDING

$212M

Federal matching support for local hospital services and health care innovation programs, as well as health insurance subsidies, and grants for community health centers

+

PUBLIC/PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP

$169M

Value of Seton Healthcare Family operating the local public hospital system/Level 1 trauma center, and integration of Dell Medical School faculty and students to the safety net community

+

LEASE

$34M

Seton payment for leasing University Medical Center Brackenridge Campus buildings

=

TOTAL VALUE

$575M

Central Health-related funding to support local health care

What does all this mean for you?

LOWER TAXES

Central Health's property tax rate is 11.7781¢ per $100 of value—Our smart policies and partnerships provide a value of health care services equal to a tax rate of more than 42¢

11.7781¢ < 42¢

LEVERAGING YOUR MONEY

The average-valued Travis County home provided Central Health with $309 in tax revenue in 2016. Central Health transformed that investment into $1,111 in local health care

VALUE OF A GOOD PARTNER

Most public hospitals in Texas are owned and operated by hospital districts. Seton operates our public hospital system and Level 1 trauma center—

KEEPING THE AVERAGE HOMEOWNER FROM PAYING AN ADDITIONAL $327

LEVERAGING OUR SPACE

Central Health earned $34M in 2016 by leasing the buildings on the University Medical Center Brackenridge Campus to Seton. This money funds health care in the community and KEPT THE AVERAGE HOMEOWNER FROM PAYING AN ADDITIONAL $65.

BRINGING YOUR MONEY HOME

Central Health brought back $212M in federal funds to support local health care in 2016—equal to $410 in property taxes to the average homeowner.