PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1936 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, U-plan, side-gabled frame house with board-and-batten siding and a projecting, shed-roofed independent porch on oversized square wood posts; single 1:1 fenestration.

RESEARCH

The house was built ca. 1936 by Nieves Navarro, who lived here for the rest of his life. He was a laborer and carpenter in the 1930s and 1940s, then went to work for Walker's Aus-Tex Chili Company in the early 1950s. From the mid-1950s until his retirement in the early 1970s, Navarro was a yardman for the Calcasieu Lumber Company. His widow, Graciela, lived in this house until her death in 1990; their daughter, Janie Navarro, lived here in the early 1990s.

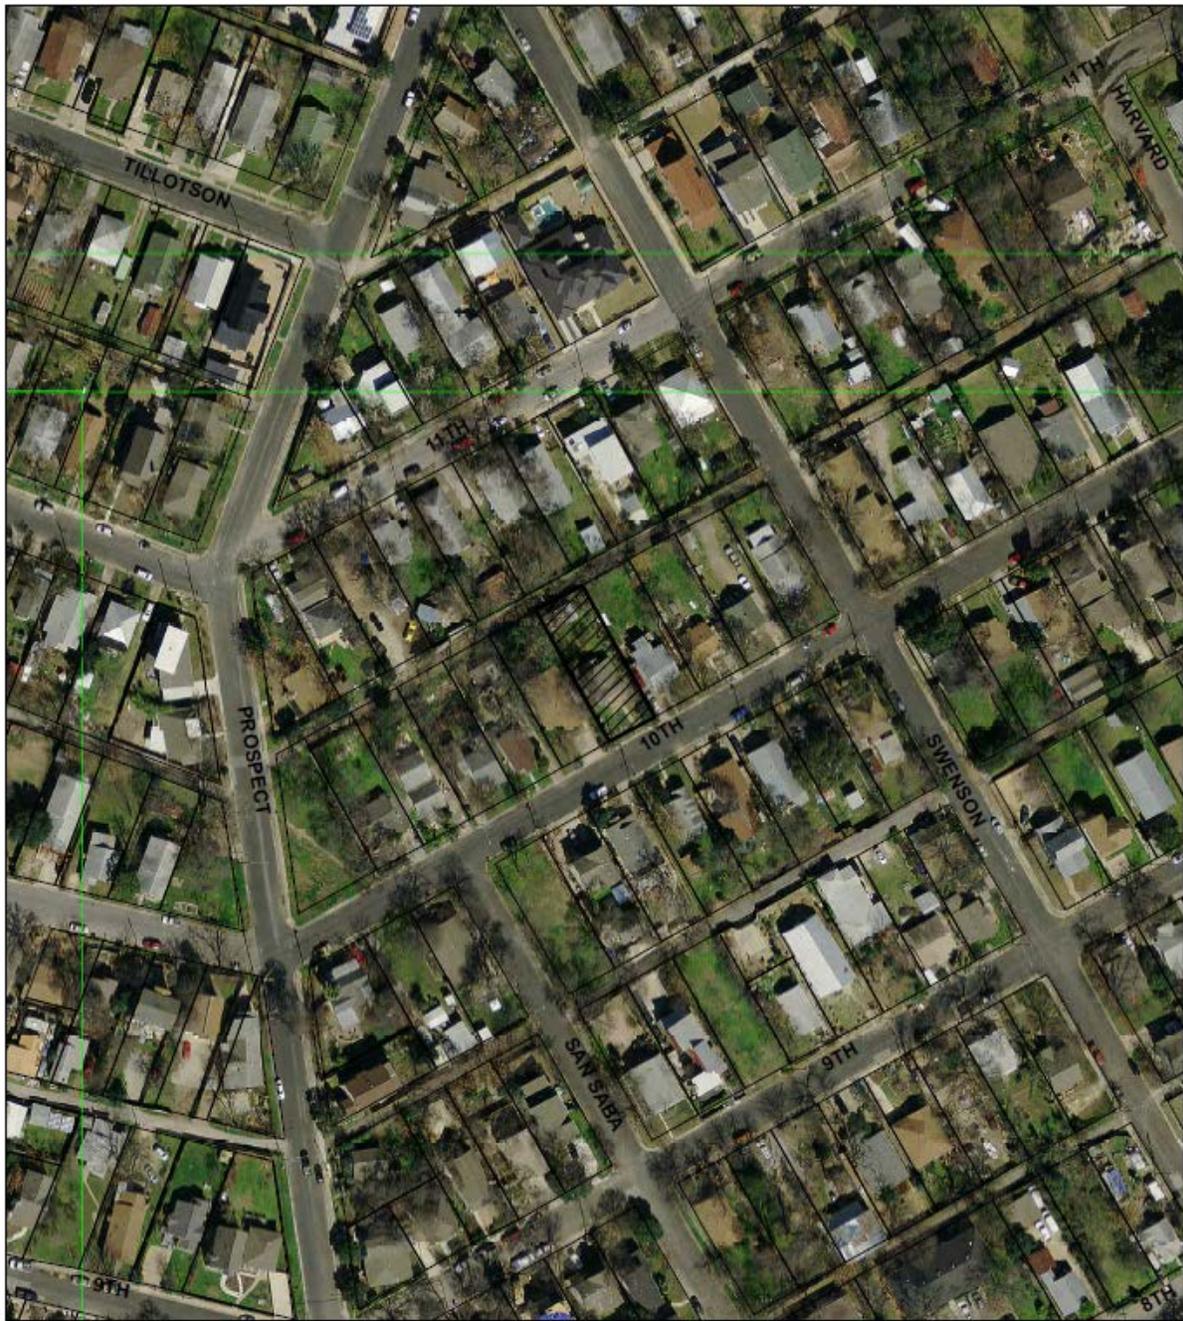

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is listed in the Comprehensive Cultural Resources Survey (1984) but with no priority for research.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use, but release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history, for archiving at the Austin History Center. The house has neither the architectural nor the historical significance to warrant individual designation as a historic landmark.
