PERMITS IN NATIONAL REGISTER HISTORIC DISTRICTS
NRD-2017-0090
1404 W. 9TH STREET
WEST LINE HISTORIC DISTRICT

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1923 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One- and two-story rectangular-plan, front-gabled frame bungalow with a two-story, side-gabled addition to the rear. The original house has a partial-width, semi-inset porch on square wood posts and stuccoed piers; single, paired, and triple 6:1 fenestration with matching window configurations in the second-story addition to the rear.

RESEARCH

The original part of the house was built in 1923 by Albert and Ethel Dearing, who lived here off- and on until around 1958. Albert Dearing was a native of south Travis County, where he grew up on a farm on Manchaca Road. He moved into Austin by 1917, and was working as a motorman for the Austin Street Railway Company. By 1920, according to the census report, Albert and Ethel Dearing were living on W. 12th Street. Albert Dearing worked as an auto mechanic. They lived in this house from around 1923 to around 1925, and around 1928 to around 1930, with renters filling the intervals. The Dearings were living in San Antonio in 1930, but returned to this house in 1936. Albert Dearing is listed in city directories as a building contractor, welder, and a weather-stripping contractor for the time that he and Ethel lived here. They remained here until around 1958.

The house was vacant in the early 1960s; city directories from that time forward show a history of rentals.

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is contributing to the West Line Historic District.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use, including consideration of the demolition delay authorized by Code, as the house is contributing to the historic district. If the Commission votes to release the permit, then staff recommends the completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history for archiving at the Austin History Center.
