Additional Backup Information:

The amendment is for technical support, maintenance and license renewals for General Electric (GE) Proficy Globalcare software. This software is used in the daily operations of Austin Water treatment facilities including treatment plants, water distribution facilities and wastewater collection facilities. This software is part of the Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition (SCADA) system required to monitor and control the process equipment at these facilities. It is a critical system for Austin Water operations and is used 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

This software is highly specialized, proprietary and is necessary for operation of the SCADA system. GE Intelligent Platforms, Inc. owns the intellectual property of this software and does not have any resellers or allow others to provide associated services to users.

This amendment is necessary to continue to provide support to this software. A longer term amendment was not pursued given rapidly changing technology in this area.

This amendment represents a decrease in annual cost from $95,327 to $88,406. Continued licensing and maintenance of this software is critical to supporting Austin Water's key daily operations.
