

Steve

Attached are photographs of the recent damage to the historically significant 24th Street Bridge, listed in the National Register of Historic Places and Austin City Landmark.

The Shoal Creek Conservancy ((SCC) Historic Bridges Committee is requesting an update from HPO on the planning of a complete restoration of the historically significant bridge. Public Works has removed the bronze dedication plaque and City Landmark plaque to store at their offices until the "scope of work" to the bridge is determined. Our committee is requesting being involved in the discussion on best and most appropriate approach that will lead to a complete restoration. Will the proposed scope of work need a Certificate of Appropriateness?

Please advise.

Charles Peveto, Chair
SCC Historic Bridges Committee

Sent from my iPhone

