Asian American Resource Center Master Plan Update Community Engagement Report

The City of Austin Parks and Recreation Department is developing a new vision and Master Plan for the Asian American Resource Center (AARC).

Asian American Resource Center
8401 Cameron Road, Austin, Texas 78754
512-974-1700 | austintexas.gov/aarc

Introduction

The City of Austin’s newest cultural facility is housed within the Parks and Recreation Department. This center represents a long-awaited dream for many in the community and was made possible through an Austin voter-approved 2006 Bond Package for $5 million with a $750,000 investment from the U.S. Department of Commerce’s Economic Development Administration. Members of the local Asian American Pacific Islander community contributed pro-bono services for the design. The center opened to the public on October 1, 2013.

Mission

The mission of the Asian American Resource Center (AARC) is to provide spaces, services, resources, and programs through an Asian American Pacific Islander perspective.

Vision

The vision is to empower Austin’s diverse communities through cultural understanding and life-enhancing opportunities.

Master Plan

A master plan is a document designed to guide the future actions of a community. It presents a vision for the future, with long-range goals and objectives for all activities that affect the future of the site.

- 300-500 or maybe smaller like 150 seating for a performance space to keep cost lower.
- Use for dance. Some senior centers support 100 people dancing. The Ballroom is carpeted so it will not work.
- AFFA uses this space for dance and it is too small. There are spaces for dance, yoga, in other places.
- The stage needs to be enlarged and stairs added to access the stage.
- All the events are centered on performances.
- Most of the building use is for performance arts. We need a room for 1000 person capacity.

- We need a performance space that can be used for live theatre, live comedy, open mic, concerts, film screenings. Preferably a tiered auditorium or black box theatre.
- A high quality performing center
- Large stage, dedicated light / sound system for performances, a backstage area, green room, additional changing rooms.
- performing area should have a proper stage
- artist need a "green room" to change costumes. It would be helpful to have a room that has curtains and full length mirror

- Adequate stage and theater lights, dressing rooms, art and music classrooms that are appropriate for different mediums (classrooms are not soundproof at all), no dedicated gallery space, classrooms are a bit too small currently

EXHIBITIONS

- Exhibition Hall- Right now, we are using the hallways but we need a separate exhibit space. Maybe, we could have multi-purpose use like use the theater to display the art.
- Gallery
- Exhibit of Asian culture

- The center needs a dedicated gallery space, studio spaces and classrooms for summer camps.
- I'd like to see a more formal, expanded gallery space specifically designed for art and artists that is open to the public.
- I think the Gallery or Exhibition should be extended. Community room for people to share some information about asian culture.
- Art gallery space & storage

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING

- We brought our grandson to Chinese event to learn about Chinese yo-yo. This would not have happened without the AARC
- Community corner for kids with cleanable surfaces
- Children play area
- Programs for young adults
- More children activities - partnerships with children organizations (Girl Scouts)
- More play space for children.

LIBRARY

- Library can be used to read and check out books about many cultures. Library brings people together. We want learning opportunities such as cultures and languages. Bring people together.

- More books/lending
- Library needs to be expanded
- Library check out system
- Real library
- Better library system
- More dedicated staff for library

PARKING

- Parking is very important.
- Garages are very expensive, so we want a bridge between the Center and next door so we can use this parking lot.
- For 5000 people, the parking is used and the parking next door is not enough,
- So far there is enough parking for the overflow for our main events on evenings and weekends. We do not want to spend money on garages. We want a bridge to connect the center and the other side of the street.
- A bridge could cost $150,000-200,000.00 or more.
- Bridge for parking next door.
- Parking garage to address the parking shortage.
- Parking is critical: ratio of sq. ft. to parking spots is not good
- Flexible parking
- Car bridge to parking lot next door
- More Parking
- New building more important than parking
- Multi-story parking for large events
- More parking is critical
- Multi-story parking garage
- Dual purpose parking garage - Top floor flex space for basketball court etc.
- More land for parking
- Parking! Parking! Parking! Multi-level garage/More ADA spaces

- Better and more parking
- Parking/pedestrian walk
- Park hours 300-500 spaces (?)
- Parking during business hours
- Better parking arrangement. Not necessarily more spaces, but agreements with nearby facilities to use their space in non-Business hours. Perhaps a gof cart to shuttle older people from nearby lots.
- Easier access to building from outside. Having to turn around when I drive through parking lot to exit can be improved.

ACCESS

- Crossing the street is dangerous
- Work with CAP Metro to have bus routes
- Crossing Cameron Rd is dangerous
- The AARC needs a bridge right away.
- Access by road is difficult going south
- If building a separate building there should be a sky bridge or a path to connect the two buildings
- Gateway structure (?)
- Colorful gate
- I do not like the street adjacent to Cameron-better to have two buildings adjacent to Cameron
- Study # 1: Make traffic on-way with one entrance and one exit
- Street light at Cameron Road
- Building to connect each other, not outside walk way
- Parking for seniors must be closer to building
- More towards central/west Austin(2)
- Connect building together
- Access to Main Bldg. from backside-too far.
- Instead a pedestrian bridge, create a vehicular bridge over the creek
- During construction do not make parking hard
- Clean creek -access to AARC (?)
- Hard to leave AARC, have to make a U-turn
- Hybrid Beacon on road to calm traffic
- Improved driveway entrance via median
- ADA accessible bridge
- Bridge to connect Rutherford to AARC
- Right of way street entry
- Ways to restrict access to loading zones
- ADA accessible from side doors

- Left turn or a traffic light
- Please improved ability to enter and exit the building parking lot. If coming from North on Dessau you will have to make a U-turn to enter and if coming south from Dessau will have to make a U-turn to leave
- foot bridge to easily access the police parking lot from the AARC parking lot. Canopies on the outdoor lawns for people to enjoy the outside.
- Removal of road median so cars do not have to do dangerous u-turns and circle around on Cameron Rd, dedicated performing arts stage or black box theatre, more to do outside (maybe a playground), brighter lighting at night for safety.
- The bldg is difficult to access. The bus stops are a long way from the center, especially from the north. There are no accessible entrances on the south side of the bldg.

ASIA STYLE STREET

- Art studio and Asian style streets. 10 Asian stores for a private investor/government venture.
- Area for lots of vendors and more space needed for vendors
- Asian style market with Asian products
- Asian street with bldg.-2 buildings with street in the middle
- Place for parade and plaza for dances
- Commercial zone with consulate offices, Asian style commercial bazaar
- Parking and Building Access Improvement
- "B Plan" - Market street and outdoor plaza to fit 15 vendors/for 1000-1500 visitors

TRADITIONS/CULTURAL EXCHANGE

- Activities for Asian communities: Culture center should carry the traditions of the Asian communities and bring the kids to see the traditions.
- 30,000 Indians in Austin now. For years we talked about having a place to meet and extend culture for our kids, a multi-generational experience
- Asians come together to learn about each other and come to a community center to learn about each other's culture
- Values: Having an Asian Center affirms diversity of Asians and presence in Austin, preserve culture.
- Children's camps about Asian culture during school breaks
- Asian heritage
- Our identity

- Here the City connects with the community. We are a national model for Pan-Asian Center.
- Demonstrate to the nation how Asian cultures can work together.
- How can this be affordable.
- Round Rock has rooms with capacity for 800, 400, 250 and 100 which are affordable.
- Too small and too expensive for a Chinese School
- Not enough free rooms-affordability is an issue
- Give discounts to nonprofits

Asian American Resources Center Survey - Values and Programming : Survey Report for 13 October 2017 to 31 January 2019

Q17	How would you define the future of the AARC?
Anonymous	Multicultural multigenerational
12/11/2018 12:58 PM
Anonymous	Outreach. AARC is becoming more central towards many big community players that wish to outreach to the Asian/Asian American communities. Although, we are under PARD as a cultural center, I see great potential in addressing in partnerships with organizations that promote causes such as Domestic Violence awareness. The AAPI is one of the hardest pop's to reach, state stats are not disaggregated or culturally/linguistically appropriate and so you have the space to at least be strategic mindfully to support those groups/issues. Its not political. Its an invisible public health concern. Please take serious consideration about the capacity AARC plans to be at with educational programming in regards of emotional/psychological needs; doesn't have to be specific, but can support (i.e., those partnerships I suggested) AAPI communities.

justin.schneider	A place that attracts people from different culture to get together, share their culture, arts and cuisine, where the children and youth learn their culture, and the seniors feel home. I hope the facility provides summer camps to children, language classes for the immigrants. Also, culture gatherings, events, and performances.
12/28/2018 01:21 PM
justin.schneider	The future of the AARC will be great! Want to see more English as a second language classes for adults, more classes for children during summer with affordable prices, more place space for children

mel 1/08/2019 11:54 PM	I was checking for something else, and saw this ~ I am just so confused. How is this not discrimination? And this is public funds. Seriously? I knew of this place, but had no clue it was part of Austin Parks. Huh. So, extra glad, I did not vote, to give more funds to the Parks, during this last vote. I didn't, because of the complete and total blatant waste of money, for Republic Square, but, now, with this. Uh, no. Not for discrimination, as well. Hmm Becoming more useful for the community

Anonymous 1/10/2019 08:07 PM	A famous place for anyone visiting Austin, not only residents.
Anonymous 1/11/2019 09:42 AM	It should be a place where seniors can come together for entertainment, interaction/networking and volunteer work which is beneficial to society at large.
ninaqho 1/11/2019 08:00 PM	Getting more engagement and involvement from millennials.
Anonymous 1/15/2019 10:26 PM	Be the place where anyone who wants to experience Asian arts and cultural activities come together to exchange their gifts, serving seniors, adults and children and helping them to maintain their wellbeing through participation in gift exchange and wellness programs, first come first served basis.
Real Austin 1/16/2019 09:04 PM	Explain why this even exists. Where is the one for White people? Seems like blatant discrimination to me. Hope Austin realizes its liability it is signing up for if they are involved in this overtly racist group.
dkester 1/17/2019 11:00 AM	Bright! The main problem I see at this time is that although a new commercial kitchen was added after initial construction, it is still not being fully utilized. What a shame that the RICE lunch program is not using the kitchen to cook meals onsite. I know it's some problem with regulations, but will it ever be resolved?
Anonymous 1/17/2019 10:08 AM	Potentially a space for Asian American voices to perform, display, and engage in the arts and express themselves.
Anonymous 1/17/2019 10:30 AM	A community center that thrives in sustaining cultural traditions and blending those rituals with innovation. A place for inclusivity and creative awakening. Nurturance, connection, communication, learning, and discovery.

Please keep the children's programs separate from adult programs and building activities add vending machines, make separate restrooms for staff, move office space for staff, separate building for ping pong (too much noise) separate library, don't mix recreation with resource center

Anonymous 1/18/2019 10:41 AM	I love AARC it's future is bright
Anonymous 1/18/2019 10:43 AM	visually functionally gathering space or Asians and Austinites
Anonymous 1/23/2019 11:25 AM	I didn't even know this place existed until last year. I would like this resource center be a hub for AA community beyond just arts and culture but also advocacy and community involvement. The programming is also geared towards Asian culture not necessarily AA experiences.
Anonymous 1/23/2019 04:05 PM	I would define the future of AARC as an organization that continues to provide access to a diverse community of people.
Anonymous 1/23/2019 08:33 PM	The Asian American community truly needs to see this as a community resource. Need more informal drop-in activities/events where people could drop-by and spend a little time (and perhaps money) to mix and mingle with other Asians. One idea could be having a mini Asian food court that operates only on weekends.
Anonymous 1/24/2019 08:56 AM	We think that it is adequate for now. We just hope that AARC will continue to provide activities and meals for seniors in the future.
Anonymous 1/24/2019 10:54 AM	Make it affordable, at least for the individuals and non-profit organizations, so more members of the community can utilize the facility.
Anonymous 1/24/2019 11:20 AM	It's good for the community and for those who are concerned about community activities.
Anonymous 1/24/2019 04:01 PM	Bring thought provoking conversations about AAPI identities and social issues surrounding the identity through exhibits of contemporary AAPI and performances by AAPI artists. Also, would like to see more panel discussions that will bring awareness about the social issues of AAPI. NEED to establish beyond Asian and voice as AAPI's.
Anonymous 1/24/2019 04:26 PM	AARC would be a place for big community events, with meeting rooms for community and city employees use of them, with a beautiful garden and plenty of parking spaces. Plus, a lot of different bus routes would facilitate for the community from different parts of Austin to attend (South, Southwest, Southeast, Central, North, etc.)
Anonymous 1/25/2019 09:18 AM	It will be the center that facilitates ongoing Asian cultural experience for all people, but especially for the various Asian communities that have grown in Austin.
Anonymous 1/25/2019 11:54 AM	I want the AARC to be a better gathering space in Northeast Austin for Asian American millenials as well as families/community groups. It's should be a more friendly environment that encourages people to come and hang out so including a cafe would be a great way to foster that, along with coworking or communal space that artists or entrepreneurs can use. Right now it does a great job enticing families and groups but individuals do not necessarily have incentive to "hang out." I would love for programming to have more progressive and cutting edge topics relevant to Asian American Pacific Islander (not just Asian) culture. I've noticed that while rentals and community

Community Meeting #2 Summary

Thursday, January 31, 2019
6:00 pm – 8:00 pm
Asian American Resource Center, Ballroom
(No Language Services Requested)

The community was provided with opportunities to review the comments from Community Meeting #1, Small Group Discussions, and results from the community survey alongside the survey conducted by NAAO in 2017. From these comments and results, Master Planning Values were derived. Community members were asked to add any additional comments they had and to provide feedback on the Master Planning Values.

Master Planning Values

- Future plans should advance the mission and vision of the center as a cultural and life-enhancing space.
- To cultivate cross cultural Asian American experiences.
- To create opportunities for intergenerational experiences both indoors and outdoors.
- The space should be flexible; capable of supporting a wide range of programming with a priority for cultural arts and active life activities.
- Design should reflect Asian American identities.
- New development must meet the present and future needs of staff (offices, storage, meeting space).
- Acknowledge and incorporate previous planning processes to the maximum extent possible.
- Use sustainable planning practices to take full advantage of current and future resources and funding.

Board Comments (see pages 10-20 for board text)

Under Senior Programs:

"Increased activities in more accessible areas in District 6"

"Intergenerational Programming"

Under Senior Meals:

"Again, Senior family to be at[cannot read note on board]"

Under Transportation:

"Why are seniors having to be bused 20 mi. from their houses for services?"

Under Kitchen:

"Demo kitchen for classes" (3)

Under Physical Activity:

"Low cost/free coaching for kids. Sliding scale.

"Divided Activity Room for classrooms is a high priority"

Comment Cards

I would like an analysis of demographics and see followup w/ areas/groups that had a disparity in responses received. Survey demo especially lacking 18-24 and 25-36. Also, are there considerations for why people are requesting all the needs/services submitted when they do not live near AARC? Are their neighborhoods/districts lacking culturally welcoming services/programs? We should not pigeonhole all Asian American wants to AARC when our community lives through the city.

(1) I am Deva Newparne, representing Nepali Society. I want some exhibition permanent that shows Nepali culture. And I suggest to build and paint that looks like Asian Cultures. (2) I want to suggest to have cooking classes where can teach different type of food making

Senior housing that benefits only very few people is very inefficient use of limited public resources. The program should aim to benefit most people to achieve maximum effect.

(1) Prioritize "services". For example, we want performance center, partitions for conference room, parking spaces. We don't need senior housing. (2) Allocation reservations for say 10 different groups. Input from Chin Chang.

Very happy with progress so far, we have had many success events here over past 8 years. Parking plan should precede capacity planning of any new Auditorium/event space. Must include covered/enclosed pedestrian walkway between buldings. Agree with the value statements as they are. Keep up the good work!!

Under Meeting Space/Classrooms/Programs in General

"Need 15 classrooms for language schools"

"Social services – connecting to mainstream providers and govt benefits"

"What else would you like to see?"

"Smaller event spaces outside of ballroom"

"More medium size classrooms"

"Inclusivity!!! AAPI – Didn't see this in presentation"

"Asian Street needs to be more inclusive South Asian friends"

"Asian street – keep in mind countries do not equal cultures"

"Services for new immigrants and refugees. More space for more nonprofits"

"After school programming (safe spaces for youth)"

Under Outdoor Uses

"More garden beds!"

"Labyrinth for mediation (walking)"

"Promenade"

Under Other

"Need drinking fountain (hot water)"

"Need crochet class for seniors"

Under Indoor Space Priorities

"The survey result seems to be very important."

Community Meeting 3: Concept Questionnaire Results

Master Plan Values-Concept Questionnaire : Survey Report for 13 October 2017 to 30 July 2019

3/29/2019 11:47 AM	Need to have a plan for $7.5M Budget. (Phase - 2) 3. How do you keep existing AARC in operation when the existing road is gone. 4. U-shape seating area for performance ctr 5. Cameron St drop location has elevation problem
Anonymous 3/29/2019 03:56 PM	I like the bridge area. This will increase the appreciation for the nature surrounding the AARC. It is important to also incorporate education and reflection in the outdoor spaces. The buildings in the main area are not utilizing the space as well as plan B. Having a mix of structured outdoor and indoor spaces is nice.
Anonymous 4/03/2019 02:02 PM	Since there will be an identifiable East Asian rock garden (jia shan), it's important to have sculptures, art, and other outdoor murals and/or garden to represent the other rich cultures present in Asia, including from Southeast Asia, and the Pacific Islands.
Anonymous 4/03/2019 03:16 PM	Thank you for including the performing arts space in both Plans A & B. My big concern is adapting the space for more parking. If there are more events that house more people, we will need parking. Crossing the street to park at overflow at the church presents safety concerns, which is what I faced when I attended the Andrew Yang Presidential rally in March, which was extremely well attended, exciting, and lovely - but it did expose the parking problems.
Anonymous 4/05/2019 09:56 PM	In order to arrive at an intelligent and responsible opinion on either of these proposed concepts, it will require having the following : *.Access to the cost and proposed budget foreach concept. * What is the funding source for either concept? *. The proposed time frame for beginning to completion.? * Would the construction be opened to local bids? Without these important considerations , we would be like children who assume they have a secret Santa Claus that will just magically give them anything they that think would be fun to have. Totally irresponsible.
Anonymous 4/07/2019 12:15 PM	Like the open space between buildings and the turn around in between for dropping off seniors. I really like the greenspace, pond area, and riparian gardens.
Anonymous 4/10/2019 01:49 AM	I like the idea of larger buildings to accommodate large scale artworks and events. Areas can be sectioned off if needed so the plan is more flexible. Overall I think the design is cleaner and a nicer design. I like an open concept design.
Vincent Cobalis 4/12/2019 02:13 PM	I like the overall concept: passenger drop-off area, Clear Creek Drive entrance, the way the retention pond is incorporated. The Asian promenade is a very important element, but "B" allocates more space. Try to find a way that the Performing Arts theater can be flexible enough for other uses, such as large cultural events that don't use theater seating. Current auditorium is not big enough for many events. Outdoor stage location and size of outdoor activity lawn is better than "B"
Anonymous 4/14/2019 11:46 AM	Building cluster is more traditional.
Anonymous 4/15/2019 01:56 PM	Plan a is much better than b.

Q2	Share your thoughts on Concept A.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:17 AM	Concern with both designs is parking - at recent Night Market event at Braker and Lamar, congestion and parking was a nightmare, almost dangerous - concept parking situation and expected capacity don't seem to be aligned consider parking garage
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:18 AM	Build space to be multi-use.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:21 AM	I like the convenience of the dropoff point relative to the existing & planned space. The open concept seems more open to the rest of the neighborhood, but I think it may dilute the impact of the actual facility.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:25 AM	I like the more organic feel of the plaza, the Clear Creak cul de sac entrance. I'm less of a fan of the "wall" idea. I prefer inclusion to exclusion. I prefer the treatment of the pond/floodplain area in Concept A, particularly the path directly engaging the creek. Overall a more "natural" and organic design which I prefer, apart from the front partition concept.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:27 AM	1. The new hall/proscenium (Bulding marked L) should provide a stage (better than what we have now) and a FLAT FLOOR, or it will only serve as a center for cultural performances and not all cultural events where a flat floor is needed. 2. The bridge to the APD parking lot should be for pedestrians only.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:28 AM	Do we need a bridge over the pond?
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:31 AM	I like the 3 access points from Cameron Rd with the circular drop-off point being in the center is much more convenient that drop-off point for Concept B. I also like the varied orientation of the new bldgs to the existing bldg. I like boardwalk across pond
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:44 AM	Comments written next to values: [To create opportunities...] Very Well (especially, learning garden next to library) [The spacee should be flexibls...] Somewhat ("1 Building" should be flat, I think, because many people want just huge hall, not theater procenium, or space with stairs) [Design should reflect...] Well - I can't see any facade in this plan, and also in master plan, there are not any symbolic design for Asian Americans.) [Use sustainable planning...] Very Well (because "19 space" is remained open for the future) But I'm not sure about the funding 7 - circular system would be good for drop-off, but I'm not sure if it's really necessary 1 - I think this building is going to be main building of new ones, so I want it to be more clearly designed and planned. 11 - I don't think sculpture garden need to be added in the masterplan because there are already sculpture garden next to the existing building. Rather than that, how about t commercial cafe for renting??? With one commercial cafe, the outdoor space would be more safe. 15 - Library and learning garden is soooo good idea, I think!! 4 - Stage is also very good idea! :) - Loda

Anonymous 4/16/2019 01:44 PM	Better use of grounds by having 2 story building. Having a few less parking spaces negated by overflow parking. Onto the circular drive at the end of Cleer Creek Drive will give a better flow for vehicles existing parking.
Anonymous 4/16/2019 01:45 PM	Boardwalk is an excellent idea
Anonymous 4/17/2019 01:36 PM	Overall, I like the feel of Concept A the most. I like the circular drop-off driveway between the buildings. I like the cul-de-sac turnout onto Clear Creek Drive, and a sculpture at that entry. I love the boardwalk going over the pond to the creek.
Anonymous 4/18/2019 09:40 PM	We don't want this to be built. Invest in what this city actually needs
Anonymous 4/19/2019 10:03 AM	A Six Hole Disc Golf Course would be Great for this Area...With a beautiful STROLL Trough the Grounds. People of all Ages Can And Will Play It. Better to go For A walk Then Sitting On the COUCH.
Anonymous 4/19/2019 01:28 PM	I like the community garden.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 09:11 AM	cannot download PDF
Anonymous 4/22/2019 09:21 AM	I like the boardwalk!
Anonymous 4/22/2019 09:49 AM	Concept A has less of a footprint. The outdoor space/green space is larger. More flexibility to use the space. Having two stories will allow more use of storage and separation during events.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 10:15 AM	This does not allow for a larger hall with more seating space and enhanced acoustics, which is an issue with the art and culture events organized in the current space.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 10:48 AM	Concept A requires a smaller footprint and therefore leaves more greenspace available for current use and potential future expansion. The larger outdoor area provides greater opportunities for cultural, cross cultural and intergenerational experiences without being constrained within four walls. The two-story design of the building provides differentiated spaces front & back of huose requirements - e.g. storage in lower level & meeting spaces in the upper level. The 2 story building provides a better "canvas" for showcasing Asian inspired architectures.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 11:17 AM	In regards of reflecting Asian American Identities, please consider: Asian, Asian-American, Multiracial Communities (mixed race families). You have an opportunity for this to be a space that doesn't just promote mono-racial categories - since identity is a fluid concept.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 11:27 AM	- Not in love with the market space under event court. - It does no make more parking - No space labelled for staff.
Anonymous	Favorite overall. Like circular drop-off Like cul-de-sac entry from Cross Creek

Anonymous 4/29/2019 12:57 PM	I tried to see it more closely with the link provided but it took me to a 404 message. I hope the design is really accessible and inclusive of people with disabilities, including those of us who use wheelchairs. I hope not just observation areas, but also preformance or other activity areas are accessible because people with disabilities are not just observers of life, we may be the presenters, performers, etc.
Anonymous 5/01/2019 05:05 PM	Plan A we support
Anonymous 5/02/2019 04:05 PM	This seems to be the substance based on what I heard in the meeting on 05/01/2019. Also, I have added a few suggestions which might be taken into consideration: 1). Class rooms can be added in Phase 3 of development of the Master Plan. For now, the main room in Phase 1 can be temporarily (movable) partitioned to create another 6 class rooms for various activities. This will make a total of 8 + 6 = 14 class rooms, enough for current activity levels. 2) AARC needs bigger space to accommodate 800 to 1000 people from Vietnamese, Chinese, Indian, South Korean, Cambodian communities. Currently these communities are holding their gatherings in other places, thereby AARC losing revenue. To hold at least 800 people in the space in stage 2 of development, Gallery seating does nor seem to be a good idea. Removable seating seems a better utilization of space and most of the communities seem to like it. One compromise might be to make the floor gradually slopped down from back to front towards the stage. This arrangement can accommodate 800 or more movable chairs and make the stage visible from the back of the room. 3) With so many people using the AARC facility through out the year it may be worthwhile to add a traffic light in the main gate of AARC in Camden road.

Q4 Share your thoughts on Concept B.
Anonymous 3/28/2019 01:57 PM	Overall I prefer concept b
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:17 AM	parking situation needs work consider garage
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:18 AM	not hard to answer all "very well"!
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:21 AM	Although this design is more closed off to Cameron Rd than A, the design feels more impressive -- creating a more enclosed space between the buildings for gathering space has more of a feeling of bringing people together. I also agree w/the speaker that there is an appeal to being able to view large crowds as you pass by the center. My only concern is that the walkway from the dropoff point to the building entrances may be too long for seniors or those with mobility issues.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:25 AM	Concerned about the distance of drop off areas in regards to persons with disabilities. Natural area seems much less engaged and somewhat perfunctory. I'd like more engagement w/outdoors. I do like the lack of "wall" and more welcoming entryway, but the straight lines feel too formal. The Clear Creek cul de sac is reduced to an appendix, not good for traffic flow.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:27 AM	This is the preferred option, but comments for option 1 apply here too. [From Concept A: 1. The new hall/proscenium (Bulding marked L) should provide a stage (better than what we have now) and a FLAT FLOOR, or it will only serve as a center for cultural performances and not all cultural events where a flat floor is needed. 2. The bridge to the APD parking lot should be for pedestrians only.]
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:28 AM	I like this concept B
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:31 AM	I don't like the center entrance in this concept, seems less grand and drop-off point is less convenient.
Anonymous 3/29/2019 11:44 AM	Comments written next to values: [To cultivate cross cultural...] Very Well ("5 Space" is very unique) [To create opportunities...] Somewhat (I don't think we need mural wall in the space of learning garden in Concept A) 5 The idea to make spaces for Asia street is good idea, but it needs to be more interactive with adjunct building. 3 cafe in this building might be noisy. Anonymous 4/16/2019 01:45 PM	Multilevel structures will present problems for seniors
Anonymous 4/17/2019 01:36 PM	The ideas I like from Concept B are: the inclusion of a Tea House / Exhibit Hall; paved walkways through the picnic and play areas and around the pond, rather than just nature trails which would not be as accessible for some people. And on both - I love the vehicle and pedestrian bridges from the overflow parking on the south.
Anonymous 4/19/2019 10:03 AM	A Six Hole Disc Golf Course would be Great for this Area...With a beautiful STROLL Trough the Grounds. People of all Ages Can And Will Play It. Better to go For A walk Then Sitting On the COUCH.
Anonymous 4/19/2019 01:28 PM	I love the Tea House! The both plans are fabulous! Can we have the both community garden AND tea house?
Anonymous 4/22/2019 09:11 AM	- Still needs to be more parking. Recommended parking garage. RLC Overflow Parking cannot be relied on as the primary parking. Far walk from AARC, difficult during inclement weather, dark at night, not accessible for ADA. - would like more details on the "Asia Street" event court. What can be accommodated here? Number of tents?, etc. will it be covered? like the idea but needs to be executed well. - is nature play area a playground? need a playscape for children. safe area for kids to play during events. - no outdoor kitchen. need to utilize kitchen we already have. difficult to upkeep, monitor, and mantain. - tea house/gallery hall - is this exhibit space? seems very far and disconnected from building - no outdoor ping pong (too hot, weather dependent), definitely need dedicated indoor space for ping pong 3 tables) - each building needs to have dedicated office space for staff responsible for those buildings/activities - like the drop off in concept A. Definitely need drop off areas that do not impede traffic. particularly if parking will not increase significantly. - flexible spaces or need to determine the purpose and utility of each space in relation to the programs the facility will offer. - no cafe - too many logistics and operational requirements. - space for vending machines that does not impact aesthetics - must have plenty of storage space and office space for growth
Anonymous 4/22/2019 09:49 AM	Concept B is a bit much. Too much concrete space. Having one story is difficult to separate events.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 10:15 AM	This does not allow for a larger hall with more seating space and enhanced acoustics, which is an issue with the art and culture events organized in the current space.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 10:48 AM	The building is TOO BIG - the AARC is not an event center or a performance hall. Once the building is built, that greenspace is gone forever. The single story design provides no differentiation in "real estate value" so that storage gets equal billing with community meeting spaces. This concept is trending towards an auditorium and not in the directions of the mission and vision of the AARC.
Anonymous 4/22/2019 11:27 AM	- Parking looks awkward. - Do not like having cafe in facility. - Not happy with layout as parking doesn't accomodate to all buildings.

Anonymous 3/29/2019 03:56 PM	performance ctr 5. Need to incorporate landscape concept of "A" The tea house is a nice touch. The bridge in Plan A target the opportunity for the community to be further in touch with nature in the spaces offered. The actual building area for this plan is better because it utilizes the spaces between the buildings. I think that the outdoor areas connecting the buildings (the space dedicated to the artwork) could be smaller or offer more outdoor art spaces that can be rotated through with different collections. The smooth edges of the plan in this concept is very soothing to look at. And when executed it could be very nice for the community to see and walk through. Since there will be an identifiable East Asian rock garden (jia shan), it's important to have sculptures, art, and other outdoor murals and/or garden to represent the other rich cultures present in Asia, including from Southeast Asia, and the Pacific Islands.
Anonymous 4/03/2019 02:02 PM	Thank you for including the performing arts space in both Plans A & B. My big concern is adapting the space for more parking. If there are more events that house more people, we will need parking. Crossing the street to park at overflow at the church presents safety concerns, which is what I faced when I attended the Andrew Yang Presidential rally in March, which was extremely well attended, exciting, and lovely - but it did expose the parking problems. Ditto concept A.

Anonymous 4/05/2019 09:56 PM
Anonymous 4/07/2019 12:15 PM	I dont like the buildings so close together without the greenspace in between. It makes it look like a monolithic structure where as concept A has a better integration with the outdoors and leaves more possibilities for beautiful outdoor spaces.
Anonymous 4/10/2019 01:49 AM	I think the design is fragmented and does not encourage cross cultural activities and presentation. I think it seems to isolate too much... and limits large scale concepts and ideas. The flow seems choppy and restrictive. Are the segmented lines within the buildings representative of movable walls? In that case the overall square footage seems larger and that would be a positive.
Anonymous 4/11/2019 05:40 AM	Concept B is far superior to Concept A in every way.
Vincent Cobalis 4/12/2019 02:13 PM	I like the tea garden concept in "B", but the outdoor stage location is better in "A". Asia Street better in "B" than "A". (might be able to access economic development funding). Hard to compare interior sizes, but I prefer the flowing design of "A" to the boxy "B" design. Clear Creek Drive entrance might flow traffic better in "A" than "B". Little Walnut Creek overlook good in both concepts. Be sure to consider staging the development based on available funding. Consider improvements to existing building, such as a divider for the auditorium.
Anonymous 4/14/2019 11:46 AM	Building design invites patrons to venture into other areas of the AARC complex.
Anonymous 4/16/2019 01:40 PM	It needs the bridge across the water and then it's perfect!

Anonymous 5/01/2019 10:52 AM	Have been to some performances at ARC recently (music concerts). Current set up and AV system makes it hard to enjoy the music. Having a theater style setting with a high quality AV system will encourage the community to use the PAC more often
Anonymous 5/01/2019 10:53 AM	Current set up and the AV system makes it hard to enjoy and event. Having a real theater style setting with high quality AV system will make more sense.
Anonymous 5/02/2019 04:05 PM	This seems to be the substance based on what I heard in the meeting on 05/01/2019. Also, I have added a few suggestions which might be taken into consideration: 1). SpeakUp Austin: Cultural Design Considerations

No.	Contribution	Author
1	Idea: I would like to see the existing facilities being open on Sundays and more week nights when volunteers are more available to run programs. Description: After hour opening	Phil.TrucViet
2	Idea: More availability to the public such as weeknights and entire weekend Description: Events at nights and weekends are ideal for the people in Austin as most of us are busy with weekdays and during business hours.	lananguyen
3	Idea: Please add a multipurpose movie/stage theatre Description: There's already a healthy amount of movies that speak to the Asian and Asian American experience, including award-winning films like WHO KILLED VINCENT CHIN, THE JOY LUCK CLUB, MEET THE PATELS, THE KILLING FIELDS OF DR. HAING S. NGO, ABACUS, etc. With the back to back successes of Asian American stories told by Asian Americans like CRAZY RICH ASIANS, SEARCHING, and TO ALL THE BOYS I LOVED BEFORE, it's opened Hollywood up to fund more Asian American movies, documentaries, and TV shows, and we should prepare ourselves to share our culture and art to the City of Austin. A proper theater (pitched seating for reading subtitles, quality projector and speakers, stage and lighting grid for Q&As and live stage performances, sound board for microphoning multiple speakers, etc.) would allow for easier access to hosting more affordable screening/stage events and more free community screenings/stage events. Austin Asian American Film Festival has long been an advocate for empowering the Asian American voice in media, and we hope the Austin community will support this also.	AndrewLee
4	Idea: Multi-use event spaces: multipurpose room for active use, dance studio, black box theater, proscenium stage theater Description: With more demand for event (classes, screenings, art gallery, rehearsals, performances) spaces, there is a dire need for rooms with different flooring (no carpet) and configuration capability designed for a variety of activities. The MAAC and Carver have a variety of such rooms.	anu
5	Idea: expanded parking lots for large events	anu
6	Idea: 250-300+ capacity theater with stage, fixed seating, full lighting and sound capability Description: The lobby could double as an art gallery space as patrons enter.	anu
7	Idea: More classrooms and meeting rooms that are open on weekends and extended hours	anu
8	Idea: Outdoor amphitheater or event space for festivals and other informal events.	anu
9	Idea: sculpture garden with Asian inspired art installations that can change periodically	anu
10	Idea: Please add the outdoor facilities similar to the attached image.	Jaujiun
11	Idea: Images of Asian Style street at Asian American Resource Center Phase-2 Master Plan Description: Asian style street has been a major character of AARC since its phase-1 master plan. The attached file provides the examples of Asian street, stores, festivals, and parades in Taiwan.	Schiller Liao

I am very happy to know AARRC is under a plan to develop the scope and is working on a program to enlarge the capacity of this organization. To-day you invite us the seniors to tell our wishes and suggestions in connection with this development. I would like to call your attention ~~attention~~ and concern about ~~about~~ the gap between the ~~pro~~ providing senior lunch and transportation. Many, even most of our folks are not able to drive, they can only depend on the vehicles provided by the Center. But frequently they are disappointed because there are not enough spaces or stops. I suggest your staff to make an investigation to see how many seniors are willing to come to the Center so to properly enlarge the capacity of transportation in the near future.

Schiller Liao Response to COA AARC Planner Greg Montes, AARC Master Plan: January 28, 2019

Thank you Schiller for your commitment to the Asian American community and the entire city. I really appreciate the feedback as we are always looking for ways to serve Austinites better. Below are my thoughts and a few questions that will help me assess and improve our process:

- “Master plan information was not well understood”: could you elaborate more on this? For example, did we miss language interpretation service? Was the information too technical? Was the presentation too quick? Help me understand with more specific examples so I can discuss this with our engagement team on what we need to do better. – (SL) It seems that many attendees missed the verbal presentation in Community Meeting #1 and was not aware of the verbal one. In addition, the presentation boards are not big enough and hard for people to correlate the information on the space to the picture itself since most attendees are not trained to read the drawings. It might be better to have two separate presentations in the Community Meeting #2 meeting on 1-31-2019.
- “Lack verbal presentation”: we provided a presentation by PARD staff and the consultant team at the beginning of the meeting. Could you elaborate more regarding community expectations? What type of set up would have been better? Feel free to describe to me what community expectations might look like. – (SL) It seems that the presentation at the beginning of the meeting by PARD and the Consultant team was not well received. How long was the presentation? Has it been continuously projected on the screen to allow attendees to see the information? The Meeting #2 flyer states the following: “This meeting will confirm what we’ve heard so far and focus on developing values that align with the vision of the future of the AARC.” The question is that the presentation of Community Meeting #2 on 1-31-19 will be a revised version based on the information received so far, or it will be the same as the presentation of Meeting #1?
- “Lacks Q&A session”: We had stations set up for participants to ask questions to PARD staff and consultant team. What would have been a better set up? – (SL) People was expecting an opening Q&A with presenters answering questions on the stage. You may want to remind the attendees by using microphone to tell them how the Q&A will be conducted.

The next section addresses several requests and I am providing follow ups:

- “Lack of tree survey result – Number of heritage trees, locations, sizes”: A tree survey is forthcoming and will help determine appropriate locations for future development. What do you think would be the best avenues to share this information with the community? I am thinking the master plan website and a paper copy at the AARC. What else should we do? – (SL) We thought the tree survey was completed already. This survey is important to show citizens why the AARC 15-acre site can’t be used for buildings. Posting it on Master Plan website is one of the ways. Need to present the survey result to community.
- “Does not meet Sub-Chapter E Requirements and Need to show 100-year flood plain”: Thank you for the reminder. At community meeting #1, we had several boards with this information as well as a Site Analyses Map that shows the 100-year flood plain. What other avenues would you recommend to share this information with the community? (SL) Could I or NAAO see the presentation boards and slides before 1-31-2019?
- “Need to include 2006 AARC Master Plan as a basis”: We agree that planning is a long term process and that each phase is a step forward to fulfilling a community vision. PARD and the consultant team are currently using the Phase 1 Master Plan that was completed in 2006 as a resource. Would you advise us on how you would like us to honor this very important milestone in this process? (SL) Include the 2006 AARC master plan and major images as a portion of the materials in the Community Meeting and make comparison between 2006 plan and the phase-2 master plan in progress.

- “Has not reflected the conclusions of NAAO’s Needs Survey”: The team appreciates the efforts of the NAAO’s work. Your organization is a critical part of our outreach efforts. The NAAO survey results will be incorporated into the overall community engagement summary that will influence the conceptual design of the property. We will share all the progress as we are listening and developing each document. (SL) Understand, however, when and how the “NAAO’s Needs Survey” to be incorporated is not clear to NAAO.
- “Has not reflected the primary concepts of AARC Phase 1 Master Plan”: During our preliminary analysis, we discovered that due to changes in City Ordinances, Development Regulations, and existing on-site vegetation, Phase 2 concepts may not look exactly like Phase 1 concepts. However, we are taking into consideration past and current feedback so we can create a plan that includes the voices of the participants. (SL) Please indicate what have been changed in City Ordinances, Development Regulations, and existing on-site vegetation since 2007 and how each of the change affects the master plan. A broad statement by saying that the changes in City Ordinances, Development Regulations have been changed is not clear and convincing to the community.
- “Site Analysis needs to clearly illustrate areas and difference uses”: the current Site Analysis Maps illustrate current conditions, such as topography, flood plain, existing trees, site circulation and existing infrastructure or facilities. How do you feel would be a better way to share this information with the community? (SL) Bottom line is that we need to know where we can build buildings and where we cannot. On Site Analysis Diagram, it is unclear whether the “Existing Weeded Area” is totally unbuildable or still allowable to build something.
- “Need to show maximum buildable floor areas with a 3-D model”: Thank you for the recommendation. We are not at this stage of the process. We are still listening to ideas and recommendations from the community. Once we finish this phase, PARD and consultant team will develop concepts. Our commitment is to include community participation every step of the way. (SL) Analyses of applicable codes, City Ordinances, Development Regulations and land use should have basic potential buildable floor area for the site based on AARC’s current zoning as “Public District”. The basic information are coverage ratio, volume ratio, etc.
- “Need to locate pedestrian bridge close to existing AARC building”: This is one idea that has reoccurred many times. We are required to follow an assessment process before solidifying. We will share the outcomes of every idea as we analyze all possibilities. (SL) Would like to see its location shown on the plan.
- “Need to consider normal operation and AARC activities during Ph. 2 construction”: Thank you for the reminder. We will work with AARC staff prior to any construction to determine how future build out will impact the AARC and the services they provide. This activity will include a communication plan for current and future users of the facility. (SL) This part needs to be included in the Execution Plan in the AARC Phase-2 Master Plan to see the construction impacts to the current AARC. A project schedule will be needed to illustrate the timeline and sequence of the activities.

- “All 3 AARC Master Plan Studies (#1, 2, & 3) needs consider the following”:
 - “Ph. 2 to be built in 4 – 5 years”: I am glad we share the same goal of building as soon as possible. Unfortunately, PARD does not have any special considerations when requesting permitting. We have to follow the same development permit process that developers do including the procurement process for design & construction. Our intention is to move through the development process as efficiently as possible. We will keep everyone in the loop as we move forward on this phase. (SL) Understand that city’s permitting process is often taking longer time than planned, however, having a plan to build AARC Phase-2 within 4~5 years is an achievable goal and we cannot use city’s permitting as an excuse to have no timeline or schedule for AARC Phase-2 project.
 - “Ph. 2 to be built with $7.5M budget bond passed by voters”: We are excited with this opportunity to serve our community better and we look forward to building a facility that everyone can feel proud of. (SL) Thanks. Community wants to use all $7.5 M to build AARC Phase-2 spaces. For long term, we can leave it to Phase-3 and look for future funding.
 - “With time and budget constraints, this project need to prioritize spaces based on NAAO survey result (and new survey)”: Thank you for the outreach and engagement that created an excellent foundation. We are also happy to the new voices that you have brought to the process and others that are now aware of this project. Priorities will be determined by everyone involved including NAAO. We appreciate your community outreach and engagement efforts that built the foundation of this project. As we continue to include new voices to the Master Planning process, project priorities will be determined by everyone involved including the NAAO. (SL) “NAAO Needs Survey for AARC Phase 2&3” has established its priority. Please let us know the timing for making the revisions to the space priority. NAAO would like to be involved.
 - “Do not waste the land for unnecessary traffic circulation, such as plan a road right next to Cameron Road for all 3 studies”: We appreciate your feedback on land use and traffic circulation. The current designs are concepts and explorations of what we have heard so far. As we continue to listen to the community, we will adjust these ideas based on the feedback we receive. (SL) All studies show a road in parallel to Cameron Road. Could you let us know which community group suggested this layout? Or, it is a preliminary thought from Master Planning Team.

C. Next Steps

- “Need to include Asian Community (NAAO) in the Master Plan process to provide input before next community meeting on 01/31/2019”: We are scheduling a meeting with your organization prior to the next meeting. We are hoping that your members will also attend the Community Meeting #2. Please encourage everyone to invite others as well by sharing the following event link: <https://www.facebook.com/events/2181363631884273/>. (SL) Look forward to it. Are you talking about NAAO meeting on 1-30-2019?

Letter from Schiller Liao: July 15, 2019

7-15-2019

Dear Greg and Laura (COA PARD),

Thanks for Greg's phone call and the emails about the presentation dates.

Network of Asian American Organizations (NAAO) had a leadership meeting on 6-29-2019 on the status of AARC Phase-2 Master Plan, the process, and the outcome of the Master Plan so far. Because NAAO has not seen the latest development of the Master Plan after PARD made a presentation of AARC Phase-2 Master Plan to NAAO on May 26, 2019, we would like to have an opportunity to see the latest development of the Master Plan and provide our input before PARD starts making presentations. If we do not see it, we are not certain that we will be in support of the AARC Phase-2 Master Plan.

In Greg Montes email date 6-27-2019, he indicated that several presentations have been tentatively scheduled as follows:

- July 16 – Asian American Quality of Life Commission
- July 31- Network of Asian American Organization
- Aug 12 - Land, Facilities & Programs Committee
- Aug 27 – Parks Board
- Sept 19 - City Council

We sincerely suggest PARD revise the above scheduled presentations until the AARC Phase-2 Master Plan is reviewed by and discussed with NAAO, and then get it updated based on the suggestions from NAAO in order to meet the needs of the community.

Based on NAAO's afore-mentioned leadership discussion on 6-29-19, here are several directions that the AARC Phase-2 Master Plan needs to address:

- A. Maximize site utilization for Phase-2 and Phase-3: Current Master Plan has been developed with horizontal layout and its buildings are no more than two stories. It is our opinion that the Master Plan needs to calculate the maximum square footage allowed by the current land zoning purpose and it needs to develop the master plan layout both horizontally and vertically in order to allow for open land available for Phase-3 development, assuming that the Phase-2 budget is unable to accommodate all needed spaces. Based on the NAAO Needs Survey, we would like to see the Master Plan address the needs of the spaces indicated in the following priority order:
- Performance Theater,
 - Senior Housing,
 - Additional Classrooms (including dividing existing AARC Assembly Hall into 8 rooms)
 - Additional Meeting Rooms,
 - Asian Art Studios/Stores,
 - Additional Exhibit Space and
 - Additional Office Spaces.

Additional Comments

When some of the spaces is unlikely to be accommodated in the Phase-2 plan and budget, a long-range plan suggesting how to deal those particular items in the Phase-2 Master Plan.

To fulfill the needs of Austin communities, including Asian community, if zoning change of the AARC site is required to expand the story height or to increase buildable square footage, we would be glad to work with PARD and the city to finalize the zoning change process and to maximize the site utilization.

- B. Optimize parking arrangement: Parking is the first priority need for outdoor space according to the NAAO's survey. Providing convenient parking in the AARC site and the neighboring 311-Rutfort site linked by a pedestrian bridge for both AARC Phase-2 and AARC Phase-3 future needs to be considered thoroughly. A parking garage structure in the 311-Rutfort site to benefit both 311-Rutfort site and AARC may be needed to best utilize the city's land since AARC's main events are often held on weekends and they need high volume of parking spaces. On the contrary, 311-Rutfort site are usually in their off-hours at weekend and the parking spaces are available for AARC events.
- C. Use public-private partnership concept: Current Master Plan has only considered using the public fund to develop the AARC site. This has limited the overall long-term vision of AARC Master Plan, in which bringing in Asian Commercial stores/ Art craft stores, or senior living area is important. Those functions are best suited for public-private partnership in order to increase city's revenue. We encourage PARD and the AARC Master Plan to address this portion, even that Phase-2 budget may not be able to address this portion, but it needs to be planned for future Phase-3.
- D. Address Performing Arts Theater options and related issues: Community has expressed divided opinions of what kind of Performing Arts Theater will be needed in the AARC Phase-2. There are three different options: (a) a Performing Arts Theater with 300~ 500 fixed-sloped seating, (b) a Multiple-purpose Performing Arts Theater with 800~1000 flexible seating on flat floor, (c) a combined option of (a) and (b). While this is a decision that needs the community to think further, it is critical for the AARC Phase-2 Master Plan to discuss the following issues for each option:
- Main purpose of the performing arts theater
 - Seating capacity
 - The role in promoting Asian performing arts
 - Frequencies of usage
 - Estimated cost
 - Parking issue
 - Available funding
 - Schedule

The above information will be critical for the community to decide which option to choose. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.

Vice President, NAAO AARC Phase-2 Liaison

HEY AUSTIN CREATIVES! The Asian American Resource Center (AARC) is seeking input for the next building phase of the AARC and they want to make sure voices from our growing creative community are part of the process. I invite you to join me in advocating for a new performance space for our creative community where we can perform live theatre, improv, standup comedy, dance, storytelling, poetry, live music, spoken word, and host film screenings. If you would also like the AARC to create a live performance venue in the next building phase, please "like" and/or post your support in the comments. I will screenshot your support and attach it to a future proposal.

Lisa B. Thompson Yes!!! The need for more performance space for creatives is critical to the development of the community of artists so we can continue to contribute to Austin's cultural vitality and add diversity. I fully support all efforts to make that happen.

Marc A. Pouhé Austin creativity is increasing in quality and diversity, while creative spaces are shrinking in number and affordability. I support this endeavor.

KarenandJennie JambonUnderwood I so appreciated the AARC when we were rehearsing A Girl Named Sue. They proved to be true partners to the Arts. Austin has such a thriving and diverse arts community with so few spaces to showcase that art. The AARC is perfectly poised to become an even better collaborator and partner by expanding their space to include a performance venue.

Melissa Vogt AARC has been a great asset to The Vortex when we needed rehearsal and meeting space. A performance space (and any additional space for rehearsal) would be a huge boon to our artistic community.

Rudy Ramirez The AARC and its incredible staff was essential to making PEOPLE OF COLOR CHRISTMAS happen not only at their own space, but at cultural spaces around Austin. A new performance space would be a chance to showcase more POC-centered art and draw connections between the larger Austin theatre community and communities of color. The art will be better, and the city will be better.

Alexandra Russo Th AARC has been vital to creative space issues this city is facing and it is so wonderful to have it is a resource. Including a performance space would not only benefit our theatre community but the community at large and help our city with cultural appreciation and outreach. So many possibilities are opened with a performance space included and I look forward to continued growth of the AARC.
