CASE MANAGER COMMENTS:

The subject property is located at the southeast corner of the intersection of F.M. 969 and Ed Bluestein Boulevard. The property is zoned CS-NP and is currently undeveloped. The Applicant proposes terminating a restrictive covenant (RC) that was attached to the subject property as part of zoning case C14-75-126(B). The restrictive covenant established the following conditions:

- “1. That the undersigned, or its successors in title, shall not construct any improvements, except access driveways, landscaping, and a perimeter fence within twenty-five (25) feet of its north property line, being approximately 304 feet in length, which is adjacent to the south right of way of F.M. 969, also known as Martin Luther King Boulevard in the City of Austin, County of Travis, State of Texas.
2. Prior to development of said property, a site plan shall be submitted to and approved by the City Council of the City of Austin, Texas.”

Please see Exhibits A, B, and C—Zoning Map, Aerial Exhibit, Restrictive Covenant.

Staff supports termination of the RC. The 25-foot setback is outdated and inconsistent with current CS zoning regulations (a 10-foot setback). Other properties in this area are not subject to similar requirements. The requirement for a Council approved site plan is also contrary to current City Code, which allows for administrative approval of site plans. Terminating the RC will make development regulations on the property consistent with current code and surrounding properties.

Please see Exhibit D – Applicant Letter.

BASIS OF RECOMMENDATION:

1. The proposed zoning should promote consistent and orderly planning.
The conditions of the 1975 RC are outdated and have been replaced by more appropriate development regulations under current code. In 1975, the City used RCs to attach conditions that would now be attached by conditional overlay or applied administratively at time of site plan. Consequently, the RC clouds the property title and makes regulatory application confusing.
2. Granting of the request should result in an equal treatment of similarly situated properties.
No other properties in the area have similar RCs. Similarly situated properties are subject to the setbacks established by their base zoning categories.

Re: 6111 F.M. 969 – Restrictive covenant termination application for the 6.10-acre piece of property located at 6111 F.M. 969 (also called East Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard) in Austin, Travis County, Texas (the “Property”)

Dear Ms. Lucas:

As representatives of the owner of the Property, we respectfully submit the enclosed restrictive covenant termination application package. The project is titled 6111 F.M. 969, consists of 6.10 acres, and is located on the southeast corner of F.M. 969, also called East Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard, and U.S. Highway 183 northbound. The Property is currently undeveloped.

The restrictive covenant recorded in the Real Property Records of Travis County, Texas as Volume 5472, Page 637 was put on the Property in 1975 as part of zoning case C14-75-126(B). The restrictive covenant established a building setback line that is inconsistent with existing Subchapter E regulations and stipulated that site plans must be approved by the City Council.

The Property is currently zoned CS-NP, General Commercial Services – Neighborhood Plan. The Property is located within the East MLK Combined Neighborhood Planning Area. The Future Land Use Map shows the Property as Mixed Use. There is no zoning application associated with this restrictive covenant termination application, therefore a Neighborhood Plan Amendment is not required with this rezoning.

The purpose of this restrictive covenant termination is to remove the following regulations that are counter to existing City of Austin code that:

1. Restricts the construction of any improvements, except driveways, landscaping, and a perimeter fence, within 25 feet of the northern boundary fronting F.M. 969 of the Property; and,
2. Requires City Council approval for any site plan submitted to the City of Austin.

Termination of this restrictive covenant will not impact the requirement for the owner to submit a site plan upon development of the Property, nor will it remove any site development regulations established by zoning, watershed, and all other applicable rules of the Land Development Code.
