Community (Colony Park) Request for Qualifications (RFQS) and Request for Proposal (RFP), and represents an opportunity to provide a critical need identified by the community that further aligns the development at the 208-acre Colony Park site with the City's Strategic Outcomes of Economic Opportunity & Affordability, and Health & Environment.

Economic and Planning Systems will conduct the work in two phases, with an initial completed phase that explored alternative locations and site plans for the Health and Wellness Campus, and the impact of the alternatives on marketability, revenue potential, and horizontal development costs for the Colony Park project overall and a second phase that will consist of an economic analysis that includes the preparation of a conceptual pro forma for projects with Central Health, and incorporates cost estimation and support negotiating a Memorandum of Understanding Term Sheet between the City, Central Health, and a potential master developer that defines the expected business terms for the Health and Wellness Campus. The interlocal agreement (ILA) with Central Health specifies the terms of the cost-sharing agreement, roles and responsibilities of each party, and timetable for deliverables.

As stipulated in the Colony Park RFQS/RFP, the City reserves the right to negotiate with Central Health, independently from the master developer, regarding a sale or lease of up to 5 acres of land within the 208-acre Colony Park site for the development of a Health and Wellness Campus to serve the immediate and critical needs of the Northeast Austin and Northeast Travis County communities. The anticipated outcomes include planning alternatives that will inform a recommended site concept plan, site analysis, site selection, site planning, master plan integration, site and utility infrastructure engineering, estimates of site and infrastructure investments, and economic analysis to establish the business terms for the real estate transaction.

The resulting terms and conditions for a real estate transaction developed through negotiation of the ILA will be brought to City Council in a future request for council action.
