PROMOTING HEALTH IN UNDERSERVED POPULATIONS

The St. David's Center for Health Promotion & Disease Prevention Research in Underserved Populations (St. David's CHPR) provides pilot seed-monies to full-time faculty and research scientists to conduct small projects deemed necessary to move their programs of research forward. These projects are designed to facilitate interdisciplinary and collaborative research that address health promotion and disease prevention to meet the needs of underserved populations. Funded investigators must submit progress reports and are expected to disseminate their results and seek larger extramural research funding.

St. David's CHPR expects to make 2-3 pilot grant awards in amounts between $10,000 (for more limited projects such as secondary data analysis, translation/instrument testing) to $30,000 (for intervention feasibility testing), as funding allows.
