Re: C15-2019-0063

Dear Stephen,

Austin Energy (AE) has reviewed your application for the above referenced property, requesting that the Board of Adjustment consider a variance(s) from the minimum setback requirement which being found in the following section of the Land Development Code;

Section 25-2-492 (Site Development Regulations) (D)

To decrease the rear setback requirement from 10 feet (required) to 0 feet (requested);

In order to maintain an existing shed in an "SF-3-NP", Single-Family zoning district. (Wooten Neighborhood Plan)

The applicant has carried out the demolition and disassembly of the structures, in the rear portion of above address, therefore eliminating Austin Energy's clearance conflicts with the structures from the existing electric lines.

Therefore, Austin Energy does not oppose the above variance request, provided any proposed and existing improvements follow Austin Energy's clearance criteria requirements, the National Electric Safety Code and OSHA. Any removal or relocation of existing electric facilities will be at owners /applicants' expense.

Please use this link to be advised of our clearance and safety requirements which are additional conditions of the above review action: <https://austinenergy.com/wcm/connect/8bb4699c-7691-4a74-98e7-56059e9be364/Design+Criteria+Manual+Oct+2015.pdf?MOD=AJPERES>

If you require further information or have any questions regarding the above comments, please contact our office. Thank you for contacting Austin Energy.

Dear Stephen,

Austin Energy (AE) has reviewed your application for the above referenced property, requesting that the Board of Adjustment consider a variance(s) from variance(s) from the minimum setback requirement of LDC Section 25-2-492 (Site Development Regulations)

(D) to decrease the rear setback requirement from 10 feet (required) to 0 feet (requested)

DENIED BY AUSTIN ENERGY (AE), due to applicant having a permanent structures that conflict with Austin Energy's clearance requirements. The Customer's facilities/installations shall maintain clearances from AE overhead facilities as required in Section 234 of the NESC. See NESC Clearance Envelope below for typical NESC clearances of 12-foot 6-inch vertical and 7-foot 6-inch horizontal from AE overhead primary voltage lines. Contact AE Design for specific clearance information. In addition, the Customer's facilities shall not be installed under or over AE overhead distribution facilities and shall maintain a minimum horizontal clearance of 7'-6" from overhead AE distribution facilities.

It is recommended that you remove the features shown on the submitted survey, be relocated from outside the easement area and that they maintain the required electric clearance requirements.

Type of Structure: Shed

- b) Application must demonstrate to the Board why the hardship is not general to the area in which the property is located. Describe how the hardship relating to the site is different from other properties in the area.

Area Character

Application must demonstrate to the Board how the variance will not alter the character of the area adjacent to the property, will not impair the use of adjacent conforming property, and will not impair the purpose of the zoning regulations of the zoning district in which the property is located.

Parking

Parking variances require additional findings to be made. The additional findings are listed on the application and must also be completed for submittal of the application.

Portion of the City of Austin Land Development Code applicant is seeking a variance from:

Austin City Code Section: zoning violations - Encroaching into a rear yard setback.

Section 2: Variance Findings

The Board must determine the existence of, sufficiency of, and weight of evidence supporting the findings described below. Therefore, you must complete each of the applicable Findings Statements as part of your application. Failure to do so may result in your application being rejected as incomplete. Please attach any additional supporting documents.

NOTE: The Board cannot grant a variance that would provide the applicant with a special privilege not enjoyed by others similarly situated or potentially similarly situated.

I contend that my entitlement to the requested variance is based on the following findings:

Reasonable Use

The zoning regulations applicable to the property do not allow for a reasonable use because:

The property has been developed for many years. In some cases trees were located in areas that would have prohibited construction in other areas of the property. A few trees have been removed for safety reasons. The survey indicates that the fence line originally thought to be the property line is actually a few feet on to the neighbors property behind. Any setback measured from the fence/assumed property line would have yielded possible setback issues. Realizing the need for a shed and the location of the pool would limit areas where it might be more appropriately located.

Hardship

a) The hardship for which the variance is requested is unique to the property in that:

This building was constructed almost 20 years ago in the location of a previous shed which had deteriorated to the point it needed to be reconstructed. Because the original shed was in this location reconstruction in this same area was not thought to be a violation of the ordinances. Upon receiving the complaint I investigated options for remedy. there is no access to the property which would allow for a company to come in and move the structure.

b) The hardship is not general to the area in which the property is located because:

The current location of the shed makes best use of the land. Aerial photograph photography indicated that several property owners in this area have sheds that appear to encroach into the rear yard setbacks.

Area Character

The variance will not alter the character of the area adjacent to the property, will not impair the use of adjacent conforming property, and will not impair the purpose of the regulations of the zoning district in which the property is located because:

The shed has been in it's current location since 2002.

Please see attached letter.

Parking (additional criteria for parking variances only)

Request for a parking variance requires the Board to make additional findings. The Board may grant a variance to a regulation prescribed in the City of Austin Land Development Code Chapter 25-6, Appendix A with respect to the number of off-street parking spaces or loading facilities required if it makes findings of fact that the following additional circumstances also apply:

1. Neither present nor anticipated future traffic volumes generated by the use of the site or the uses of sites in the vicinity reasonably require strict or literal interpretation and enforcement of the specific regulation because:

N/A

2. The granting of this variance will not result in the parking or loading of vehicles on public streets in such a manner as to interfere with the free flow of traffic of the streets because:

N?A

3. The granting of this variance will not create a safety hazard or any other condition inconsistent with the objectives of this Ordinance because:

N?A

4. The variance will run with the use or uses to which it pertains and shall not run with the site because:

N/A

Address to Board of Adjustment

Dear Members of the Board and Citizens

First let me introduce myself, my name is Steve Rison, I'm a Michigan transplant who moved to Austin around Christmas of 1980 after being raised in a small town in Northern Michigan. I'm a graduate of Central Michigan University and after serving in the army 1969-71, returned to school under the GI Bill, completed a Master's Degree in Counseling and began my employment as a therapist for community mental health. I resigned my position in 1979 and began my dream journey of a backpacking adventure around the world, which lasted about a year. Returning to Michigan in 1980, I determined that this was a new chapter and an appropriate time to consider moving and relocating. Having spent some time with my youngest sister, who had previously moved here with her husband and family for a job relocation, and initially visiting here in the winter on a Christmas break, needless to say, fell in love with Austin.

I initially worked for Veterans Outreach and eventually was able to obtain a position with Austin Community College where I served as a counselor in Student Services and was a professor and taught Human Sexuality, in the the Psychology/Sociology departments. I retired from counseling in 2009, and from teaching in 2012 after 31 years serving at numerous campuses throughout the district.

I purchased my home on Fairfield in 1984, this being my first and only home purchase ever, in partnership with my sister and brother-in-law after they impressed on me that "I should stop paying rent and get some equity going for the future." I agreed, moved forward and a couple years later bought them out determining that this would be, in fact, where I would establish my roots, create my "castle", complete my professional career, and comfortably spend the rest of my life.

I assessed that the neighborhood was comfortable and would fit for me and began to support and integrate myself positively with my neighbors in our collective efforts to improve our neighborhood and community. In fact, I initiated our first contact with the Neighborhood Watch organization, ordered and personally paid for and sunk the posts to display the signs.

The issue today is a back building which I built, around 2002, with the help of my nephews and friends to replace a metal shed which was deteriorating and a shop bench in front of it covered in plastic sheeting, which pooled water and provided a mosquito breeding ground. The back of my property at that time was basically empty and backed up to a veritable small forest of an undeveloped backyard of the neighbor's property. I couldn't even see their house—the situation is similar today. Nevertheless, the project started out simple but developed as I perceived that since I was replacing an existing structure I should simply replace this eyesore shed with something more useful and attractive that could be a workshop, a studio and quiet space, a storage area for paints, decorations, general chatska, and as a greenhouse for storing deck plants in winter, etc. It evolved also to become an area for process to work on my memoirs, organize photos, thousands of which I have taken over the years, and archives collected during a lifetime of travel and adventure. While sharing this depository of photos, I also believed that fostering a comfortable, safe place for discourse among generations with wide diversity could be fostered and fit the adage "Keep Austin Weird" in a positive and inspiring sense.

Many who have visited have commented on the comforting and inviting atmosphere and more than one have suggested that my home belongs in South Austin...as if only South Austin has unique backyard environments. I have maintained friendships with many friends throughout the country and the world in the almost 40 years that I have lived here. Over the years many from across the globe have visited me here including from Lithuania, the Netherlands, Ecuador, last year friends from New Zealand visited and this year friends from Germany, never having been to America, will visit Austin during Halloween, and be afforded an especially insightful look at the keeping Austin weird philosophy while sharing my home and touring Austin.

I have made it my goal to create a comfortable sharing space...and to share it with a wide audience. I have had many gatherings over the years including reunions, wakes, receptions, birthdays and just hang-outs. This past summer I hosted blues legend, Lavelle White's, 90th Birthday. I have tried to be a good neighbor and have attempted with my fencing and other projects to insulate any noise or disruption to the neighborhood and have asked my many guests to be respectful as they are arriving or leaving my home. I have often included many neighbors in my activities which have included political "watch parties" for debates which brought many strangers into my home as well. Strangers, aren't threatening to me as I often view them as only friends that I haven't gotten to know yet.

When I was teaching, I would tell my students that we, in Austin, live in a special place under a special sort of a unique karmic bubble. In that it is appreciated far and wide that we are fortunate to have this place to call our home on the planet, have a responsibility to be good ambassadors and representatives and citizens. As a frequent traveler, I have encountered many folks along the way and when I tell them I'm from Austin their eyes open wide and the conversations take off.

This oasis that I've created has been a therapeutic exercise for me as a hands on effort as well as a foundation for a lifetime of friendships that I and many others have lovingly developed together over the years. It has been, for me, one of the single most important lifetime driving forces especially now in the waning chapters of my life trip.

I'm not perfect, by any means, and am sorry to have violated the regulations. It was not my intention to violate, or denigrate my property or those around me. During a recent storm and transformer malfunction I have without hesitation offered to open my backyard for utility access and tree trimming for trees whose trunks were in the neighbor's yard but more easily assessable from mine. I have tried to be a good neighbor and good citizen.

This structure is more than more than just a structure—some have said it's a museum. In fact, I have collected many things/ artifacts (some say junk...I say treasures) in order to display and share with those visiting. Many friends and visitors, in fact, have donated things to me because they wanted to leave something and be a part of the positive energy that exists.

The shop, as I call it, has been a labor of love and dedicated to providing a relaxed and reflective place to share with folks from all corners of the world. It has provided a unique example and appreciation of the many varied residences that make up and reflect the diversity of Austin.

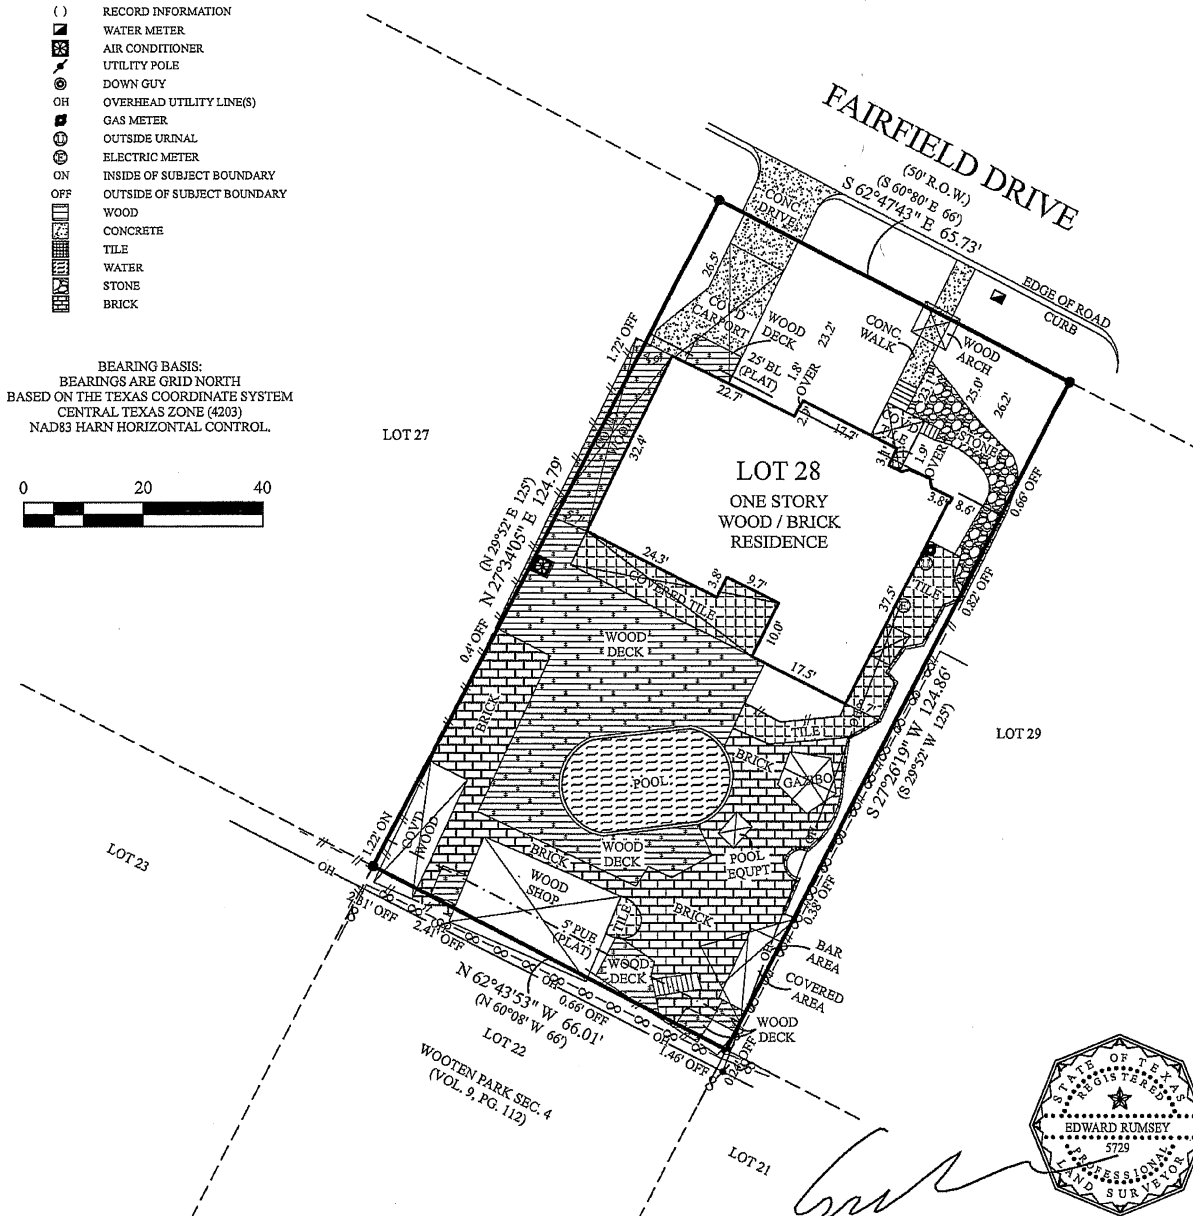

I live here alone now with my cat, Lucky, and respectfully ask that you grant me this variance and allow me to continue sharing my home with my friends and neighbors in a positive integrated manner. I hope to continue being an active vibrant part of this community and to continue being a good promoter of our neighborhood and city that I have spent the majority of my life trying to do. Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Stephen,

Austin Energy (AE) has reviewed your application for the above referenced property, requesting that the Board of Adjustment consider a variance(s) from variance(s) from the minimum setback requirement of LDC Section 25-2-492 (Site Development Regulations)

(D) to decrease the rear setback requirement from 10 feet (required) to 0 feet (requested)

In order to maintain an existing shed in an "SF-3-NP", Single-Family zoning district. (Wooten Neighborhood Plan)

DENIED BY AUSTIN ENERGY (AE) , due to applicant having a permanent structures that conflict with Austin Energy's clearance requirements. The Customer's facilities/installations shall maintain clearances from AE overhead facilities as required in Section 234 of the NESC. See NESC Clearance Envelope below for typical NESC clearances of 12-foot 6-inch vertical and 7-foot 6-inch horizontal from AE overhead primary voltage lines. Contact AE Design for specific clearance information. In addition, the Customer's facilities shall not be installed under or over AE overhead distribution facilities and shall maintain a minimum horizontal clearance of 7'-6" from overhead AE distribution facilities.

It is recommended that you remove the features shown on the submitted survey, be relocated from outside the easement area and that they maintain the required electric clearance requirements.

Please contact Eben Kellogg Property Agent for Austin Energy - Public Involvement and Real Estate Services 512-322-6050/ eben.kellogg@austinenergy.com to demonstrate that this has been accomplished.

Board of Adjustment

To whom it may concern,

I have been asked to write a letter of character for my neighbor Steve Rison (1507 Fairfield Dr.). I have known Steve since he moved into the neighborhood in 1984. He is, without doubt, an exceptional neighbor and Austinite.

While living here for a very short time, he took it upon himself to get Neighborhood Watch. He led the process by contacting residents, ensuring that attendance requirements were met, paying for and installing the sign, and making sure everyone felt safe and secure. He has been a very stable and delightful part of our neighborhood.

Knowing Steve all these years, I feel it is not in his nature to try to abuse rules or regulations. His main purpose is to make his home and surroundings inviting. He really is the ambassador for our little area. He introduces himself to people moving in and makes them feel welcome. He offers suggestions and helpful hints to new residents. Steve is a very positive and cheerful person. It is not his purpose to cause problems for anyone or anything. He only wants what is best for everyone and Austin.

I respect Steve and cannot say enough nice things about him. He is truly a very caring and lovely person. I hope that all these concerns can be addressed and solved. Steve is a charming sole and respected by many. The building in question is quite quaint and it would be sad if it had to be removed. It is the inspiration for many conversations and enjoyable evenings. I cannot imagine the benefit if it were removed—it is a part of our neighborhood and our history.

If you would like to talk to me or have further questions, please feel free to contact me at 512-453-6884.

Cordially,

Linda Teague
Fellow Austinite

To Whom It May Concern:

Steve has been our neighbor since we moved to the Wooten in 2013. He has been a part of this neighborhood far longer than most. He was the first person to welcome us here and has always had an open invitation to all the neighbors for his gatherings.

For the most part, our neighbors have a "live and let live" philosophy towards each other. Steve has always been supportive to the changes we have made to our own home, from complimenting our new paint colors to commiserating over the loss of our last shade tree due to disease. Having lived next door to him for 6 years, we can attest to the fact that his frequent social gatherings have never been a nuisance.

While we only have limited information concerning what brought about the issue at hand, it seems that a small handful of people in the neighborhood have taken to utilizing the city's Code Enforcement to harass their neighbors. We have also been on the receiving end of an unnecessary visit from Code Enforcement that could have been resolved by a simple conversation. Other neighbors have shared similar stories on our neighborhood group in recent months.

It is downright shameful to have resulted in this situation. Steve's property, like himself, is unique, a bit weird, and part of what makes living in Austin wonderful. The structure at the back of his property has been standing for nearly 20 years and has yet to be a problem for anyone.

Sincerely,

Austin and Jaimie Schweiger
