2020 Census Update

JUNE 24, 2020

Update on 2020 Census Outreach

- 1. The Importance of the Census
- 2. Response Rate Data Analysis
- 3. Update on Outreach Efforts

The Census Impacts Funding: $800 Billion

- Medicaid
- Medicare Part B
- Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP)
- •Grants to local school districts (Title I)
- SNAP
- Highway and public transit programs
- Emergency food and shelter programs
- Head Start
- •Women, Infants and Children (WIC) food assistance program
- · Programs for the elderly
- Crime Victim assistance
- Substance abuse prevention and treatment

For every Travis County resident that is not counted in the 2020 Census, the county is estimated to lose at least $1,500 per year.

The Census Is Crucial

- Allocation of federal funds to state and local communities
- Reapportionment of Congressional districts among the states
- Redistricting of state house, senate, legislative and other districts
  - City of Austin City Council Districts
  - Travis County Commissioners Court

If the State of Texas were to be successful in counting all residents in the 2020 Census, Texans could gain at least three new congressional in the U.S. Congress

Strategic Plan

The strategic plan for the 2020 Census has three principal components:

An institutional strategy, centered on mobilizing a broad swath of trusted Austin/Travis County institutions in educating and motivating a large segment of the public to participate in the Census.

A grassroots strategy, to identify and communicate with people who are not easily or ordinarily reached by the institutional outreach component.

A media strategy, to communicate effectively with all Central Texas residents through radio, TV, print media and social media.

Regional Media Plan

Five County region collectively applied for media grant from the Central Texas Pooled Fund late last year and were awarded $59,000.

Regional consortium has equitably allocated dollars towards three largest Hard to Count Community groups based on relative population size:

- Hispanic Latino
- Asian American
- Black-African American

Regional Media Plan cont.

$40,000 contracted with the four Spanish speaking radio stations in the Central Texas area to be spent on coordinated, daily Spanish language advertising throughout Central Texas.

$19,000 to be spent on expanded geographic footprint beyond Travis County for digital advertisers to target mobile devices with Asian American and Black-African American messaging.

Digital Team: Data + Content + Support

Data – Volunteer led mapping projects to illustrate local hurdles to participation and real-time response rates in targeted census tracts (Austin/Travis Co Dashboard). All housed in the CoA Open Data Portal and developed in partnership with Census bureau.

Content – Developed website, creative, copy, templates, and localized resources in coordination with local volunteers, city and county staff, and national partners.

Support - Assisting the CCCs in any and all things digital. Refining social media campaigns, tracking results of grassroots efforts, and content development.

Intersectional Focus Area

Refocusing Grassroots campaign to a targeted geographic area.

The census tracts selected are concentrated in the North Lamar/Rundberg area – one of the County's consistently lowest-responding neighborhood areas and diverse in hard to count populations.

The budget will invest in proven strategies used in the field and reported back to the CCC as measurably effective in increasing response rates:

- Phone-banking,
- Mail from local elected officials, and
- Resource center canvassing (when safe).

30 Day Response Challenge

Countywide CCC has launched a 30-day challenge to count an additional 50,000 households in the month of June

Goal set in consultation with City Demographer and based on the historical average response rate this far. If successful, county and city will surpass 2010 response rate.

Digital Team is working in partnership with grassroots groups to publish digital content regularly with weekly themes and targeted audiences.
