DESIGN COMMISSION
RECOMMENDATION 20200622-01A

Date: June 26, 2020

Subject: Design Commission recommendation for the University Hills Branch Library Parking Lot Expansion project located at 4701 Loyola Lane.

Motioned By: David Carroll

Seconded By: Evan Taniguchi

Recommendation:

The City of Austin Design Commission recommends that the University Hills Branch Library Parking Lot Expansion project, located at 4701 Loyola Lane, as presented on June 22, 2020, conforms with City of Austin Design Standards.

Rationale:

This letter is to confirm the Design Commission's support of the University Hills Branch Library Parking Lot Expansion project, located at 4701 Loyola Lane, as presented on June 22, 2020. Our review found the following:

1. The project will reduce existing safety hazards caused by visitors parking on an unsafe road.
2. The project will improve accessibility for disabled visitors by adding ADA parking and accessible sidewalks.
3. The project addresses environmental concerns by adding a detention pond, adding more trees, and using pervious paving.

Respectfully,
City of Austin Design Commission
