

HISTORIC LANDMARK COMMISSION
DECEMBER 14, 2020
DEMOLITION AND RELOCATION PERMITS
HDP-2020-0400
1400 DRAKE AVENUE

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1937 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story, rectangular-plan, side-gabled frame house with a central, front-gabled independent porch on paired, plain wood posts; single and paired 1:1 fenestration.

RESEARCH

The house was built around 1937 by Paul Kirschner, a local builder and developer. The house was first purchased by Emmitt and Gertie Grosskopf, who lived here from around 1938 until around 1943. Emmitt Grosskopf was a blue print operator for the State Highway Department; Gertie Grosskopf was a service representative for the telephone company. Joseph C. and Wilhelmina Collins purchased the house around 1948 after it having been rented out for several years in the mid-1940s. Joseph C. Collins was a deaf mute who worked as a linotype operator for the Steck Company, a local printing and bookbinding company. The Collinses lived here until around 1956. Sam Alton Brooks, a longtime service man for the City Water and Light Department, purchased the house around 1956 and lived here until his death in 1988.

STAFF COMMENTS

The house was listed with no priority for research in the Comprehensive Cultural Resources Survey (1984). It is contributing to the pending Travis Heights National Register Historic District.

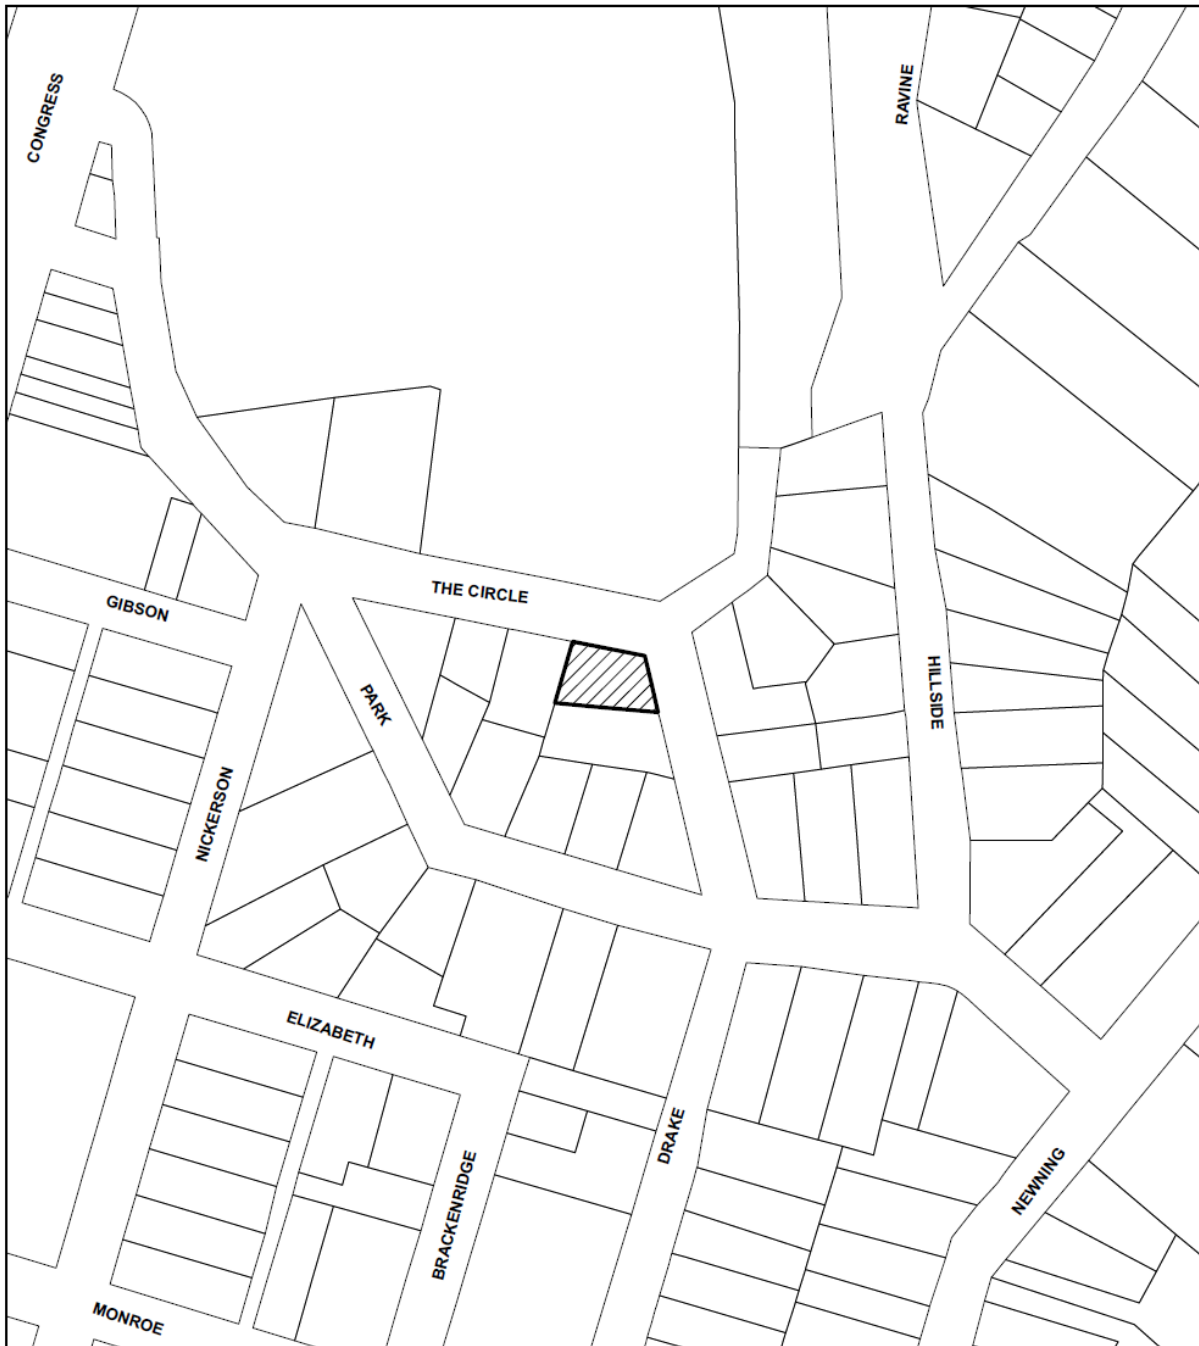

Staff has evaluated this house for designation as a historic landmark and has determined that the house may meet the criteria for landmark designation as set forth in City Code:

- a. Architecture. The house is a classic vernacular 1930s cottage with an oversized, front-gabled porch. While a common type at the time of its construction, this is a vanishing resource type, and reflects blue-collar housing in South Austin.
 - b. Historical association. The house is associated with several working class families, none of whom achieved significance individually, but as a group, represent blue-collar families who were able to purchase a house in a popular area of South Austin.
 - c. Archaeology. The house was not evaluated for its potential to yield significant data concerning the human history or prehistory of the region.
 - d. Community value. The house does not possess a unique location, physical characteristic, or significant feature that contributes to the character, image, or cultural identity of the city, the neighborhood, or a particular demographic group.
 - e. Landscape feature. The property is not a significant natural or designed landscape with artistic, aesthetic, cultural, or historical value to the city.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Encourage rehabilitation and adaptive re-use, then relocation over demolition, but release the permit upon completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package, consisting of photographs of all elevations, a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history, for archiving at the Austin History Center. The house does not squarely meet the criteria for individual designation as a historic landmark.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES:

Emmitt and Gertie Grosskopf (ca. 1938 – ca. 1943)

Emmitt Grosskopf married Gertie Mus in Travis County in October, 1937.

Emmitt and Gertie Grosskopf are listed in the 1940 U.S. Census at this address; they owned the house, which was worth $2,900. Emmitt was 25, had been born in Texas, and was a multi-lith operator for the State Highway Department. Gertie Grosskopf was 21, had been born in Washington, and was a service representative for the telephone company. With them lived Emmitt's sister, Lucille Grosskopf, 36, an office nurse for a doctor.

His 1940 World War II draft registration card shows that Emmitt Herbert Grosskopf was living at this address. He was born in Pflugerville, Texas in 1914 and worked for the Reproduction Division of the State Highway Department. Gertie is listed as his wife. He was 5'-8" tall, weighed 130 pounds, and had a light complexion with brown hair and blue eyes.

The 1930 U.S. Census shows Emmitt Grosskopf as the 15-year old son of Augusta Grosskopf, a 51-year old Texas-born widow. Augusta Grosskopf was a farmer in the Dessau area of Travis County. The 1920 U.S. Census shows that Emmitt was the youngest child of the family; his mother is listed as a farm operator, and his older siblings were all farm laborers.

Emmitt H. Grosskopf

Emmitt H. Grosskopf, 79, of Austin died Saturday, August 20, 1994.

Emmitt was a member of the First English Lutheran Church. He retired from the State of Texas Highway Department at age 62 after 40 years of service. During World War II, he served in the United States Navy in San Diego, California, and Norman, Oklahoma. Emmitt enjoyed golfing and fishing. He served as president of the Austin Golf Association in 1960.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home Sunday, August 21, 1994, from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM.

Graveside funeral services will be held at 11:00 AM Monday, August 22, 1994, at Immanuel Lutheran Church Cemetery in Pflugerville, with Reverend Robert Karti officiating.

Emmitt is survived by his wife, Gertie; son and daughter-in-law, Richard and Carolyn Grosskopf; granddaughter, Courtney of Houston; daughter and son-in-law, Sharon and Edward Rosenthal of San Antonio; daughter and son-in-law, Vicki and Douglas Beran; and granddaughter, Lindsay Patge of Austin; sister, Mrs. Ada Gorham of Granite Shoals.

In lieu of flowers, those desiring may make memorial contributions to the First English Lutheran Church, 3100 Whitis, Austin, or the charity of your choice.

Arrangements by Cook-Walden Funeral Home, 6100 N. Lamar.

Gertie Mus Grosskopf Gertie Mus Grosskopf of Austin, passed away Sunday, July 3, 2005. Gertie was born May 24, 1917, in Deer Lodge, Montana, and lived with her family in Washington State and New Mexico before coming to Austin in the 1930 s. She graduated from Austin High School and found a career which extended for 40 years with Southwest Bell Telephone. She made many life-long and dear friends through her work. Although she worked full time, Gertie raised three children with her husband and with the assistance of her mother who lived with the family. Gertie was an adventurer who took her children on many trips near and far. She continued to travel the world with friends into her late seventies. She was preceded in death by her husband, Emmitt and her brother, Richard Mus, Jr. Gertie is survived by her three children, their spouses, and two granddaughters: Richard Grosskopf and wife, Carolyn of Houston, their daughter, Courtney McHenry and husband, Daniel of San Antonio, Sharon Rosenthal and husband, Ed of San Antonio, Vicki Beran and husband, Doug of Austin and their daughter, Lindsay. The family will receive friends at 6:00 p.m., followed by a Prayer Service at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 6, 2005, in the Davis Chapel of Cook-Walden Funeral Home. A private graveside service for the family will be held at 10:30 a.m., Thursday, July 7, 2005, at Austin Memorial Park Cemetery. The family extends their appreciation to Tilda Cruz, Dr. Nuzhat Ahmed, Dr. Hillary Miller, Westminster Manor Health Center and Hospice Austin. In lieu of flowers, please make donations to the Alzheimer's Association, Capital of Texas Chapter, 3429 Executive Center Drive, Ste 100, Austin, Texas 78731 or Hospice Austin, 4107 Spicewood Springs Road, Austin, Texas 78759.
