AEDC is governed by a "blue-ribbon" board of directors consisting of 20 voting members who are nominated by the City and other external agencies or partners in the community. Each seat represents a key expertise/voice within the landscape of the economic and community development field. AustinUp is one of those external partners that nominates candidates who provide important subject matter expertise to the board. Since the board was approved, Council appointed nominees for the initial and renewed terms. Recently, Dr. Char Hu, the AustinUp nominee, resigned from the board. In accordance with the AEDC bylaws, AustinUp nominates Cyndi Cummings to replace Dr. Hu on the board. The AustinUp board position term expires in 2024 (please see Exhibit A).
