Subject: Status of City of Austin Annexations in 2022

Date: June 24, 2022

This memorandum is to provide an update on annexations that have been completed and proposed in 2022. Staff has compiled ordinance information as well as case numbers and other pertinent information for all potential annexations. Annexation information, including an interactive map, is available at: <https://austintexas.gov/page/annexation>.

As of the date of this memo, two annexations have been completed in 2022. Both annexations were full purpose annexations of limited purpose jurisdiction areas and therefore do not require any changes to the single member districts map. All limited purpose jurisdiction areas were assigned Council Districts when the ICRC adopted the revised District map in October, 2021.

The additional annexations planned at the time of this memo have been scheduled for Council consideration on July 28, 2022. Most of these annexations were scheduled for earlier Council meetings but were postponed for various reasons.
