EAST 11 TH & 12TH STREETS URBAN RENEWAL PLAN (URP)

1. BOUNDARY DESCRIPTION

The formal boundaries of the East 11th and 12th Streets Urban Renewal Area are set forth in the documents listed in Appendix A and the ordinance approving this URP. In general, the boundaries are:

The East 11th Street Corridor, including properties within one-half block of the north frontage of East 11th Street and south frontage of Juniper Street, from Branch Street on the west to Navasota Street on the east; and properties within one-half block of the south frontage of East 11th, from San Marcos Street on the west to Navasota Street on the east.

The East 12th Street Corridor, including properties within one-half block of the north frontage of East 12th and between the IH-35 Northbound Frontage Road on the west to Poquito Street to the east; and properties within one-half block of the south frontage of East 12th Street, from Branch Street on the west to Poquito Street on the east.

2. HISTORY

This East 11th and 12th Streets Urban Renewal Plan ("URP" also referred to as the East 11th and 12th Streets Community Redevelopment Plan or "CRP"), is a comprehensive document defining the official public policy guidelines of the City of Austin (City) for driving public and private redevelopment actions within the East 11th and 12th Streets Urban Renewal Area in compliance with Texas Local Government Code, Chapter 374.

The URP's original conceptual approaches and strategies for the entire Central East Austin area were defined as part of the Central East Austin Master Plan ("Master Plan") prepared in January 1999, by representative members and organizations of the Central East Austin community with the professional and technical assistance of the Crane Urban Design Team and the Austin Revitalization Authority (ARA). The Master Plan provided a general framework for developing the Central East Austin Neighborhood Plan which was adopted by Austin City Council under Ordinance No. 011213-41. Two critical Subareas of the Master Plan are the East 11th and 12th Street Corridors, which were identified to be the location of much of the new commercial/office redevelopment called for in the Master Plan. In November 1997, the City of Austin (City) declared this area to be slum and blighted and designated these corridors as appropriate for an urban renewal project.

Under Chapter 374 of the Texas Local Government Code, the Urban Renewal Agency (URA) and the City are granted a series of redevelopment roles and responsibilities regarding urban renewal areas including approval of projects for compliance with an urban renewal plan and the use of eminent domain powers. As originally adopted in 1999, the URP was intended to identify and implement mechanisms to eliminate the negative forces of urban blight, distress and impaired development within the area and to pursue a fresh, self-determined vision of Central East Austin as a self-sustaining, progressive community for the 21st century. The overall goals and action priorities of this URP reflected a broad consensus of residents, businesses, property owners, institutions, and community activists. This consensus was the result of substantial cumulative planning and revitalization efforts over a period of three years and has been reconsidered and reestablished through this updated URP.

This URP defines specific redevelopment projects and associated regulatory controls intended to assure quality, compatible, mixed-use development along these critical commercial arteries. The redevelopment process has been guided by the URA consistent with state law, the Master Plan, the URP, and a Development Agreement that was negotiated between the City, URA, and the Austin Revitalization Authority (ARA).

In order to carry out specific redevelopment projects identified in the URP, the City of Austin secured a $9,035,000 Section 108 Loan Guarantee Assistance Program (Section 108) from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in December 1999.

Also in 1999, the City, the URA and the ARA entered into an Acquisition, Development and Loan Agreement (commonly referred to as the “Tri-Party Agreement”) that identified the roles and responsibilities of the City, URA and the ARA as it related to the redevelopment activities of the URP area. This agreement expired in September 30, 2010. The City, in partnership with the URA, is now carrying out the redevelopment activities called for under the URP.

Private Investment

- Several private developments on both East 11th and 12th Street have been completed, including a boutique hotel, restaurants, a grocery/café, bars and mixed-use developments.

NOTE: It is important to acknowledge that the above accomplishments have been made in the URP area, but also to note the URP area has not yet fulfilled its potential as a mixed-use, urban community. East 11th Street has experienced improvements whereas, East 12th Street still has numerous vacant parcels and/or vacant buildings, and the East 11th and 12th Street corridors remain underutilized and somewhat inconsistent with the community vision. In December 2018, and in support of the URP, the Austin City Council (Council) extended the Urban Renewal Plan's expiration date until 2028. In five years, 2024, the City Manager is to evaluate whether there is continued need for the URP and the URA. The evaluation and recommendation are to be provided to the URA and Council. The URA is also to provide Council with a recommendation. During the ten year extension, the City Manager is to work with the Urban Renewal Agency and other key community partners to carry out the strategies described in the Economic Opportunity and Affordability section in the City's strategic plan (Strategic Direction 2023) Council encouraged the City Manager to include the Office of Performance Management, Neighborhood Housing and Community Development, Planning and Zoning Department, Economic Development Department and the Office of Real Estate Service in carrying out these activities.

3. VISION, PURPOSE, AUTHORITY AND SCOPE

VISION

Champion sustainable revitalization reflecting diversity, achieving equity, and preserving East Austin's cultural history.

PURPOSE

Urban Renewal Plan's primary purpose is to eliminate slum and blighting influence within a designated area of the city. This plan will further that purpose by identifying and facilitating the development of mixed-use projects with affordable residential options for the 11th and 12th Street corridors that enhances where people work, live and play (e.g. entertainment) around neighborhood-oriented and pedestrian-friendly retail and office space while taking care to prevent displacement.

AUTHORITY

Under Texas Local Government Code, Chapter 374, Urban Renewal in Municipalities, upon the completion, adoption and recordation of the URP, the URA gains the authority to apply special urban renewal powers and tools to address existing "slum" and/or "blight" conditions which have been found to threaten the public safety, health, and welfare, and which act as impediments to sound private investment, stable property values, and viable conditions for rendering public services. The URA's Board of Commissioners' primary responsibility is to oversee the implementation and compliance of approved Urban Renewal Plans that are adopted by the Austin City Council.

SCOPE

This URP and the public purposes it fulfills extend well beyond the levels of public intervention that can occur through normal City development regulations, housing and community development assistance, or capital improvement programs. Under Texas Local Government Code, Section 374.014(f), the adopted urban renewal plan controls the land use and building requirements applicable to properties within an urban renewal area. If the Urban Renewal Plan is silent to provisions found in other adopted codes, ordinances or regulations of the City of Austin, those development regulations shall control. Where there is conflict between the Urban Renewal Plan provisions found in other adopted codes, ordinances or regulations of the City of Austin, the Urban Renewal Plan shall control.

The following is a summary listing of typical local government tools and tactics that are widely employed in responsive, preservation-oriented redevelopment implementation strategies in many local jurisdictions throughout the United States:

- a. Urban renewal plan/development controls: These may include: designating areas within the redevelopment area that are set up as zoning districts; reducing land uses that are incompatible with the accepted development standards; restricting parking and access to properties; setting guidelines which restrict design within the development area; and establishing project review and approval procedures. Actions specifically undertaken by the URB in the past have included:
 - i. Reviewing periodically the plan and overlaying regulations, such as Neighborhood Conservation Combining Districts (NCCDs).
 - ii. Reviewing requests to modify the URP and making recommendations to Austin City Council relating to such modifications.

- b. Public improvements and area redevelopment financing: A varied range of tax-exempt public and private financing mechanisms can be devised to support infrastructure and public facility improvements, property acquisition, site preparation, and other temporary or permanent redevelopment costs. Examples include Section 108 loan funds; G.O. Bonds; and tax-exempt revenue bonds.
- c. Special private development incentives: These may include financing, tax, and regulatory incentives linked with economic development, affordable housing, historic preservation and other public contributions keyed to revitalization of a blighted area. As one example, an NCCD is a zoning overlay that modifies zoning requirements in a specific area.
- d. Property acquisition for public and private re-use sites: This tool includes options for public acquisition for fair market value (FMV) by negotiated or eminent domain procedures. Special provisions can be designed to encourage private land assembly and/or development project participation by existing property owners and other community-based interests.
- e. Property disposition and long-term covenants: Orderly processes of project construction and long-term use agreements can be tailored to circumstances of any project where public development assistance is provided.

The URA desires to continue the consideration of the use of all of these tools, and others, in achieving the vision of this URP in accordance with the general principles of the East 11th and 12th Street Development Strategy conducted in 2012.

The East 11th and 12th Street Development Strategy can be found at this link: http://www.austintexas.gov/sites/default/files/files/Housing/Commercial_Revitalization/Final_11th_12th_Street_Technical_Report_-_March_5.pdf

4. REDEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

The previous version of the URP envisioned East 11th Street as a place for higher-intensity, mixed-use development, where new development can build on the historical strengths of the corridor for the creation of a dynamic entertainment/retail/housing area. This included potential hubs and mixed-use developments for restaurants, nightclubs, clothing stores, antique stores, bookstores, coffeehouses, live-work offices and studios, and other uses.

The East 11th Street corridor has been largely developed since the date of the previous version of the URP adoption, but this URP continues to view this corridor as being appropriate for such developments.

In contrast, East 12th Street was considered to be a more residentially compatible opportunity for neighborhood-based retail, small-scale offices, and housing. Consistency with existing housing was of primary importance, and desired uses and development included professional offices, a laundry, convenience stores, bed and breakfasts, duplexes, and townhomes. The expressed community desire included encouraging as much retail development as possible along East 12th Street.

The East 12th corridor has seen smaller developments since the date of the previous version of the URP adoption, but remains largely undeveloped.

Infrastructure along the East 11th Street corridor has benefited in recent years from City investment in streetscape improvements, utility line burial and water/wastewater line upgrades. The infrastructure along East 12th Street was identified in the 2012 East 11th and 12th Street Development Strategy, Appendix B, as an area in need of improvement for streetscaping, the undergrounding of utilities and upgrades to water/wastewater lines.

5. APPLICABILITY OF NCCD CONTROLS

The previous version of the URP contained several distinct project areas that contained a near lot-by-lot description of development controls, including depictions referred to as “tear sheets” that among other things narrowly described the potential uses of a particular project area or lot. It has been determined that this lot-level of developmental control was far too limiting and confusing and did not encourage development of the URP area. In addition, at the time of the writing of this URP, overlapping developmental controls known as Neighborhood Combining Conservation Districts (NCCDs) are also being modified and updated in consultation with the URA and with local stakeholders. By streamlining the developmental controls under this URP to refer primarily to the NCCDs, the community vision and community input into development will be preserved, while greatly simplifying the process for interested parties to determine what uses and development are permissible throughout the URP area, and for any particular project area or lot.

NCCD's are zoning overlays that modify uses and site development regulations of a base district located in the NCCD in accordance with a neighborhood plan. In addition, the East 11th and 12th Streets NCCD's are zoning tools to implement the East 11th and 12th Street Urban Renewal Plan.

There are currently two NCCD's that contain site development controls that pertain to the URP area the East 11th Street and East 12th Street NCCDs.

This URP adopts, as its site development controls, the site development controls in those NCCDs as they exist on the date of the adoption of the URP. Pursuant to Texas Local Government Code Section 374.014(f), after a city approves an urban renewal plan, the provisions of the plan that relate to the future use of the affected property and the building requirements applicable to the property control with respect to that property, as such, future modifications to the NCCDs (or elimination of the NCCDs) shall not affect this URP unless such modifications are separately adopted as an amendment to the URP. The URP adopts the boundaries of Subdistrict 1 and 2 of the East 11th Street NCCD and the East 12th Street NCCD as they exist on the date of the adoption of the URP for the purpose of applying land use controls outlined in Part 6.

Additional information regarding the NCCDs is in Appendix B, attached hereto.

6. LAND USE

To be updated at third reading.

At third reading, this section will mirror permitted, conditional, and prohibited use provisions found in the NCCDs that apply to properties within the East 11th and 12th Street Urban Renewal Areas.

7. RELOCATION OF PERSONS, BUSINESSES (INCLUDING INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES), BUSINESS CONCERNS, AND OTHERS DISPLACED BY THE PROJECT

If the URA receives Federal funds for real estate acquisition and relocation, the URA shall comply with 24 C.F.R. Part 42, implementing the Uniform Relocation and Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, as amended. The URA may also undertake relocation activities for those not entitled to benefit under federal law, as the URA may deem appropriate for which funds are available. Persons leasing property held for redevelopment (i.e., those tenants who commence tenancy after acquisition by the URA) shall not be eligible for relocation benefits. In the event the URA activities directly result in the displacement of families within the Area, the URA shall relocate such displaced families into decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling accommodations without undue hardship to such families as required by law. For any other activity, the URA will comply with the provisions of the Law regarding relocation. The URA reserves the right to extend benefits for relocation to those not otherwise entitled to relocation benefits as provided under the Act or the Law. All relocation activities of the URA will be conducted by the City of Austin.

8. DURATION AND MODIFICATION PROCEDURES OF URBAN RENEWAL PLAN (URP)

- A. Termination of URP. The URP and the controls described in Sections 5 and 6 for the URP area shall expire, and no longer be in force or effect, after September 30, 2028. In 2024, the URP will be evaluated to determine if there is a continued need for the URP and the Urban Renewal Agency.
- B. Amendments to the URP. The URP may be modified at any time in the following manner:
1. The amendment proposal shall be submitted to the designated City staff of the Planning Commission and the Urban Renewal Agency (URA).
 2. The URA shall submit a written recommendation to the City Council.
 3. Planning Commission shall submit a written recommendation to the City Council.
 4. Notice of Public Hearing at Planning Commission on the proposed URP amendment will be mailed to all property owners, renters and registered community organizations within 500 feet affected by the proposed amendment.
 5. Upon receipt of a recommendation from the URA and the Planning Commission, the City Council shall hold a public hearing related to the proposed amendment.
 6. Notice of Public Hearing at Council on the proposed URP amendment shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation three times in advance of the public hearing, in accordance with Chapter 374, Local Government Code.
 7. After the public hearing, the City Council will consider the proposed amendment.
