Information entered by filer as a memo:

We have attempted to include bundling information in this uploaded report in accordance with city requirements. However, there is a glitch in the software causing errors in the data that prevents reporting it correctly. The clerk's office has confirmed the software issue and informed us that they are currently working on it with their developers, but that it is unlikely the glitch will be corrected before the end of the day.

In order to file a timely report with all the information, regardless of the glitch, we have removed the erroneous bundling data from the uploaded report and have instead emailed the clerk a spreadsheet of all bundled contributions. We have also requested the spreadsheet be included with our online filing. In addition, we will file a corrected report with the bundling section immediately after the glitch is corrected.

MEMO FROM COUNSEL

The Texas Election Code does not allow a candidate or officeholder to have more than one campaign treasurer appointment. The Code provides for a treasurer appointment to be "transferred" if an individual decides to run for another office with a different reporting authority. For example, if a state officeholder or former officeholder who reports to the Texas Ethics Commission (TEC) runs for a local office, the treasurer appointment should be transferred to the reporting authority of the local jurisdiction. (A candidate or officeholder who does not plan to run again may simply terminate a campaign treasurer appointment.)

When a candidate or officeholder has transferred their treasurer appointment, the TEC will not accept further campaign finance filings relating to their original campaign account, and state law presumes that future reporting of those funds will be by the treasurer named in the transfer document to the new reporting authority.

Kirk Watson transferred his campaign treasurer appointment from the TEC to the City of Austin when he decided to run for mayor of Austin. Under City of Austin rules, funds he raised while he was running for and serving as a state senator have remained segregated from funds raised for the mayor's race. To avoid a potential conflict between TEC rules and City rules, though, campaign legal advisors have recommended that the remaining "senate" funds previously reported to the TEC should continue to be segregated as they have been and also held by a separate political action committee that reports to an authority other than the city clerk.

Transferring the senate account to a new GPAC (general purpose political committee) is being done to separate the reporting of the two funds and to provide more transparent political reporting. Transferring the senate funds to the new GPAC is not a political expenditure related in any way to the mayor's race.

The "senate" funds transferred to the new GPAC may be lawfully used for certain political and non-political purposes which must be reported by the GPAC. No funds transferred to the GPAC will be used in the mayor's race.

Since there can be and is only one campaign treasurer for Kirk Watson, all contributions and expenditures related to the mayor's race will be properly reported on the candidate form that the treasurer is required to file with the City Clerk, the next one being due on July 15. Future campaign reports by the GPAC will be filed with the TEC.

All funds included in Schedules I and K of this report are funds from the previous and separately held "senate" account. These funds are unrelated to the mayor's race.
