Additional Backup Information:

On November 14, 2019, the City Council passed an ordinance making significant changes to University Neighborhood Overlay (UNO) regarding building heights, permitted uses, parking, and sign regulations. This ordinance affected several UNO sign regulations. In the original UNO ordinance (Ordinance No. 040902-58), no signs should be illuminated and those signs above the second story must be engraved or embossed. The embossed and engraved standard did not adhere to industry standards and resulted in numerous Board of Adjustment cases. Council removed the engraved or embossed requirement in 2019. Although the prohibition on illuminated signs was intended to be removed, the existing language regarding illuminated signs remained in the 2019 ordinance. This has caused issues not only in UNO, but also in the Transit Oriented Developments which reference the UNO sign regulations. At the request of staff, at their May 26, 2020 meeting, the Planning Commission initiated an amendment to remove the provision regarding illuminated signs.
