CREEK ²⁰₂₃ SHOW

waterloo greenway

Waterloo Greenway is a 1.5-mile park system with the power to bring the entire Austin community together.

Once complete, the 35 acres of connected green space – meandering from 15th St. along downtown's eastern edge to Lady Bird Lake – will be home to a wild array of natural and cultural destinations.

A significant public-private partnership between the City of Austin and, us, the Waterloo Greenway Conservancy, this park of all parks is being planned, designed, and built in a series of geographic milestones. Meeting each one by our 2026 completion goal is ambitious and requires support from the entire community.

CREEK SHOW OVERVIEW

Creek Show seeks to support and celebrate outstanding design while sparking conversation about the transformation of Waterloo Greenway into a series of urban parks, trails, around a restored Waller Creek.

Each year, Creek Show features light-based installations that inspire, delight, and engage the public along Waller Creek.

Creek Show installations are curated via a public Call for Ideas at the beginning of each year. The opportunity is open to anyone based in Austin, TX. Collaborative and interdisciplinary proposals are highly encouraged. Applications are reviewed by a rotating committee of local art and environmental leaders and enthusiasts.
