DISCUSSION ITEMS

2. Austin Core Transportation Plan Update – Michelle Marx, Transportation and Public Works Department.

- Qureshi – does this change transit routing? Marx – CapMetro has provided info on routing that has been incorporated into the plan.
- White – should JSC consider recommendation to maximize one-way to two-way conversions. Marx – not a panacea for improving safety. With tight intersection spacing in East Downtown, allows for signal coordination to reduce speeds. Context dependent – would work in places with wide streets, widely spaced intersections.

3. CapMetro Sustainability Updates – David Carr, CapMetro

- Qureshi – can you comment on lack of electric buses on new rapid routes? Carr – Proterra bankruptcy has affected commissioning of new buses. New Flyer buses in service now. Charging infrastructure still being installed – especially in-route charging.
- White – why is CapMetro backing away from electric bus purchases? Carr – very expensive. MetroRapid costs being covered by grants and other sources. Range performance capabilities aren't there yet.
- Carr – issues with a lack of parts and service from Proterra. New company has taken over – CapMetro pause until they catch up with servicing and parts. Nationwide issue.
- Rothrock - can charging infrastructure be shared? Carr – theoretically, yes. New buses use pantograph chargers (tech not readily available). 450kw charging – does not exist for commercial vehicles. Overnight at 60kw charging possible but might take all day. Could be used for small vehicles.
- White – is CapMetro coordinating with ARR on plans to electrify garbage trucks. Carr – different types of vehicles, duty cycles, technologies. Opportunities for some synergies, but not at the moment. Discussions with AISD, airport, etc. happening.

4. Internal Climate and Efficiency Revolving Fund Proposal – Rohan Lilauwala, Office of Climate Action and Resilience.

- Davis, White – how are savings measured? Lilauwala – by certified energy manager. SOP to keep fund robust and healthy over time.
- White – could things like refrigerants be paid for? Lilauwala – projects need to have savings/revenue to keep the fund capitalized.
- Campbell – would it need funding every year? Lilauwala – theoretically, seed funding could sustain it for a long time.
- Scott – what is amount needed? Lilauwala – comprehensive climate implementation plan has the number at $5 million seed funding.

7. Recommendation on the Austin Core Transportation Plan.

- Scott – feels safer on two-way streets.
- Bell amendment – exploring additional one-way to two-way conversion of streets– no objections to friendly amendment, approved
