

Mapping Opportunity

Gary Aaron | Business Process Consultant Sr.

Shivani Datar | Business Process Specialist

City of Austin's Commitment

In every community, there are conditions—some visible, others deeply embedded—that shape how people live, work, and move through the city.

Austin is committed to becoming the most livable city for all identities...

Mobility Index

The City is developing an index to better align department priorities with community priorities. This index will help:

Identify neighborhood-level conditions that affect people's daily lives

Identify where barriers to opportunity persist

Guide service delivery and decision-making with data and community insight

Purposeful Design

Neighborhood-level conditions are grouped into themes

Reflect core dimensions of community life

Organize conditions into actionable categories

Identify shared needs and track progress

Building Together | Listening to What Matters Most to Our Community

- ❖ What do you see as the most important issues or opportunities in your community today?
- ❖ In your view, what are the key drivers of success or opportunity in your community?
- ❖ What changes would have the greatest impact on mobility and opportunity in your community?

Thank You!